

PORTO RICO STRUCK BY HURRICANE

Emergency Reduction In Gas Rates Here In Prospect

HEARING TO BE HELD IN L. A. OCT. 11

Southern Counties Gas Co.
Ordered to Show Cause
Why Slash Not Be Made
PROBE IS UNDERWAY
More Than 125 Cities in Southern California Will Benefit by Cut in Rates

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—An emergency reduction in gas rates of the Southern California Gas Company was in prospect today when the state railroad commission ordered the utilities firm to show cause why such a reduction should not be made pending completion of the commission's general investigation into the firm's rates.

Hearing on the order to show cause will be held Oct. 11 before Commissioners William J. Carr and Fred G. Steverof. The order was brief, merely reciting that good cause appears for its issuance.

Investigation into the rates of the utility was opened by the commission Sept. 23.

The commission's order to show cause represents a comparatively new type of procedure recently developed for use in rate cases. It was first employed in 1930 in a general proceeding involving electric rates of the Pacific Gas and Electric company. Aggregate reductions in rates of $2,400,000 a year resulted.

The method also was used in the case of the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation and Midland Counties Public Service corporation, when an emergency reduction of approximately $600,000 a year was ordered in electric rates.
Early this year emergency cuts of some $600,000 in the rates of the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company were put into effect, and a similar order to show cause was directed last week against the Coast Counties Gas and Electric company.

The Southern California Gas company serves 127 cities, towns and communities in the southern part of the state, and the whole of the San Joaquin valley.

INSULL READY TO HELP OUT INQUIRY

PARIS, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Samuel Insull wants nothing better than to be "forgotten," but is ready to give the United States government what help he can in straightening out the affairs of his utilities companies, the Continental Daily Mail quoted Insull as saying today.

The headline "Insull ready to go to United States if needed" was not borne out in the text of the reputed interview with Insull. The newspaper also said Insull was living in a cheap hotel, whereas he resides at one of the swankiest and most expensive in Paris.

The Continental Daily Mail is the European edition of the London Daily Mail, published by Lord Rothermere.

New Spirit Of Giving To Benefit Chest

"A new spirit of giving will rule the 1932 Community Chest campaign," W. J.
Tway, president of the Chest and general chairman of the welfare and relief campaign said today regarding the need and probable support in the coming campaign to raise $53,000.

"Santa Ana men and women will see their neighbors through by generous giving, even if serious sacrifices are involved. The problem is our own—we must and will solve it. Thirty per cent of the fund asked is for the aid of the unemployed, another 22 per cent for welfare and relief and the rest will maintain our institutions which must be sustained."

HOME OF JUDGE IS WRECKED BY BOMBING TODAY

Jurist in Sacco-Vanzetti Murder Trial Narrowly Escapes Death

WORCESTER, MASS., Sept. 27.
—(UP)—Judge Webster Thayer, who presided at the internationally famous Sacco-Vanzetti murder trial 11 years ago, barely escaped death today when his home on the fashionable west side was wrecked by a bomb.

The white-haired justice of the Massachusetts superior court suffered only bumps, bruises and shock when hurled from bed by the terrific blast. The explosion damaged neighboring property and rocked a wide section of the city.

Although the judge's 62-year-old wife and a maid, Miss Joan Ashe, 32, were taken to hospitals, neither was seriously hurt. Mrs. Thayer received five cuts on the forehead when hit by tumbling debris. The maid suffered from hysteria.

Judge Thayer received hundreds of death threats in connection with the trial and execution of Nicola Sacco, shoe worker, and Bartholomew Vanzetti, fish peddler, who were electrocuted at state prison in 1927 for the murder of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree seven years earlier. Police were inclined to link the bombing with the Sacco-Vanzetti case, although conceding it was strange that vengeance should have been so long deferred.

When firemen reached the Thayer home on Institute road, in response to an emergency call, they found the judge, unhurt but suffering from shock, groping through the darkness and debris to reach his wife's bedroom.

"They can't kill me that easily," exclaimed the judge. "I hate to think because a man does his duty by God and country he gets this."

STEAMERS SEARCH FOR LOST AVIATOR

OCHISHI, Japan, Sept. 27.—
(UP)—The steamer Hokuho Maru, of agriculture, today began a systematic search around the Northern Kurile Islands for the Junkers monoplane Hochi Niehbel, lost since Saturday on a projected non-stop flight from Japan to Nome, Alaska.

Belief was held here that the plane and its crew of three men had made a safe landing after they encountered storms over the North Pacific ocean.

The Hokuho Maru aided Col.
Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife on their flight over the Kuriles to Japan last year.

DEMONSTRATION IS AIMED AT GOVERNOR

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 27.—
(UP)—Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers Holiday association, said today that a protest demonstration will be held in Sioux City, Ia., by striking farmers during Gov. Franklin D.
Roosevelt's campaign visit there.
The demonstration, Reno said, will be similar to one planned for Des Moines next week when President Hoover speaks here.

REPORT BLAMES JAPAN FOR ATTACKS MADE ON MANCHURIA

Coolidge To Be Head Of Commission

Former President Soon to Return to Public Life Reports Assert

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(UP)— Calvin Coolidge will return to public life to head a commission whose purpose, stripped of verbiage, is to protect investments and savings by making railroad rates increases less difficult, according to an announcement expected here today or Wednesday.

Reports that the former president would accept the chairmanship of such a non-partisan commission including Alfred E.
Smith, Bernard M. Baruch, and Clarke Howell, Democrats, and Alexander Legge, Republican, have been prevalent for some time.

The commission, the reports said, was to be sponsored by a huge financial and industrial group exclusive of the transportation lines themselves. The purpose will be to make a survey, and sponsor legislation to correct such evils as tend to "confiscate" property, destroy the credit of the railroads, and wipe out savings represented by securities or insurance policies.

Such an announcement would indicate that even the tremendous unprecedented financial aid extended to the railroads within the last year, plus a wage cut and other economies have not been enough to withstand the pressure of the depression. The roads have borrowed about $275,000,000 from the government.

And the drop in traffic and earnings has not been abated. For instance, the Northern Pacific railroad whose net operating income (earnings) in the first eight months of 1929, the best of the boom years, was $11,547,126, reported a net loss of first eight months of this year amounting to $1,231,305. Such reports were duplicated by other roads.

And stocks have fallen almost in pace with earnings. The average of twenty leading railroad stocks in September of 1929 when quotations were highest, was $189.
Today, the average of the same stocks is about $36.22, and that

COLLEGE STUDENT PLACED ON TRIAL

SAN JOSE, Calif., Sept. 27.—
(UP)—George D. Templeton Jr., 20-year-old former University of California student, nonchalantly watched attorneys bicker over the selection of jurors today to try him for the fatal stabbing of his wealthy aunt.

The prosecution indicated in its examination of veniremen that the death penalty will be asked for the handsome young man who allegedly murdered Mrs. Lillian Babcock, Manila society woman, with a 40-cent kitchen knife and seriously injured her husband, William Rider Babcock.

FIVE MAYORS BEGIN DISMISSAL PROBE

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)— Five mayors began an investigation today into dismissal of William J.
Locke of San Francisco as secretary-manager of the League of California Municipalities, a post he had held for 24 years.

Objections of President James H.
Mitchell, Burbank, to a further hearing were overridden by delegates as the league's 34th annual convention opened.

BRIGHT SPOTS IN BUSINESS

(BY UNITED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(UP)—
A nation-wide poll of investment bankers indicated 84 per cent believe a "turn" in business is here, while 86 per cent say stocks and bonds have touched "bottom."

PITTSBURGH—Believing that the "low point of the depression has been passed," the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will spend $1,200,000 for raw materials, supplies and developments.

DAYTON, O.—A 25 per cent gain in sales of electrical refrigerators by the Frigidaire company in the first 20 days of September, compared with the corresponding period of August, was reported by H. W. Newell, vice president in charge of sales.

MASSILON, O.—Republic Steel corporation doubled its steel ingot production at the local Open Hearth plant.

NEW YORK—Sales of the Simmons company, bed and furniture manufacturers, were 45 per cent higher in August than in July and currently are running 55 per cent ahead of August, officials said.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Five hundred men have been recalled to jobs on the Louisville and Nashville railroad system as a result of mounting freight business.

CLAIMS FUNDS GIVEN SENATOR REPAID LOANS PARTY IN IOWA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)— Checks issued by officials of the Loyal Order of Moose were traced today at the trial of U. S. Senator James J. Davis when the defense resumed its efforts to show that money which went from alleged lottery funds to Davis was to repay a loan.

The trial of Davis, charged with violation of the Federal lottery laws, was resumed after Judge Frank J. Coleman warned the jury that his ruling yesterday, denying a defense motion of a direct-verdict of acquittal, did not in any way intimate anything "as to the actual guilt or innocence of the defendant."

Fred W. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Moose organization department of the Chicago organization, was then called and examined by Charles J. Margotti, chief of defense counsel. Jones had accounted for certain checks as repayment of loans to Davis and told how he and Joseph Jenkins had taken over from Davis the organization department which conducted the Moose charity balls.

POPULAR SCENARIO WRITER ENDS LIFE

Anthony Paul Kelly, once popular motion picture scenario writer, committed suicide by inhaling gas while lying on a couch beside the manuscripts of two of his successful plays.

In a note addressed to the police department Kelly said he could "see no sense prolonging this agony any longer." He had tuberculosis of both lungs and the disease recently had spread to his throat.

Kelly was born in Chicago. He had been ill two years.

Two of his better known plays,
"Three Faces East" and "The Battle Royal" were the ones found beside his body when police broke into his Manhattan apartment.

GANDHI PREPARES FOR NORMAL DIET

POONA, India, Sept. 27.—(UP)—
The Mahatma M. K. Gandhi received mud baths, massages and injections today to restore his health so he could drink his normal supply of goat's milk.

Gandhi, who ended his "fast unto death" yesterday after existing on water for over six days, took his second meal today in the yard of Yeravda prison. Sir Rasthri Nath Tagore, famous Indian poet, numerous "untouchables," and others squatted nearby and watched the Mahatma in silence.

Gandhi's normal diet includes goat milk curds, fruit, whole wheat bread, boiled vegetables, raw tomatoes and almond paste. He drinks lemon juice during the afternoon.

League Will Give Report On Saturday

Findings of Lytton Commission Include Compromise Over Act

GENEVA, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The Lytton commission's report to the League of Nations on the far eastern conflict blames Japan in a mild way for the attack on Mukden, Manchuria, on September 18, 1931, an unimpeachable authority revealed today.

The report is to be made public Saturday. It includes a compromise clause reached after lengthy discussion in which it blames Japan for the attack on Mukden but expressly advances the opinion that the Japanese officers genuinely believed they were acting in self defense.

Mukden was captured by the Japanese after heavy fighting on both sides.

FOREIGN SECRETARY IS ORDERED HOME

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(UP)— Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon hurried home from Geneva today for conferences which may decide the fate of Great Britain's national government.

The foreign secretary was recalled by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

Dispute between free traders and tariff advocates in the cabinet may precipitate a crisis when the cabinet meets tomorrow to discuss results of the recent imperial conference at Ottawa. Much appeared to hinge on Sir John Simon's discussion with MacDonald and other government leaders.

Various signs pointed toward development of internal dissensions into an open split. King George is coming back from Balmoral, Scotland several days earlier than scheduled, reportedly in connection with the political situation.

Predictions of the outcome range from eventual dissolution of parliament and new general elections to a shakeup which will mean merely the resignation of the anti-tariff group from the government.

Roosevelt was introduced by Governor Arthur Seligman.

An Indian string orchestra furnished the music while the audience awaited rather impatiently
for the governor to appear.

"Take an alarm clock in there,"
someone shouted when Roosevelt
did not show up immediately upon the train's arrival.

From this point the special was to proceed directly to Colorado Springs.

AMERICAN WINNER OF BALLOON RACES

BASLE, Switzerland, Sept. 27.—
(UP)—Ward T. Van Orman, veteran American balloonist, appeared today to have won the James Gordon Bennett cup international balloon race for the fifth time with a flight from Basle to Kovno, Lithuania, in the Goodyear VIII.

Van Orman notified officials of the race here that he landed at Kovno, about 9000 miles on an air line, at 8:30 a. m. today.

The last of the 16 balloons to report itself down was the U. S.
Navy, which landed at Wasynle, near Vilna, Lithuania, at 10 a. m.

The distance was slightly short of that to Kovno, making Van Or-man the apparent winner and giving the United States permanent possession of the cup.

ASSOCIATION WILL AID TALLANT TUBBS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)— President Jouett Shouse of the association against the prohibition amendment announced today the association would support Tallant Tubbs, Republican, in the California contest for U. S. senator.
William G. McAdoo is the Democratic candidate.

Shouse, former chairman of the National Democratic executive committee, said the decision had been made by unanimous vote of the association's executive committee.

Shouse said Tubbs "throughout his campaign for the nomination was definite in his position for repeal" while McAdoo's position
"has not been made clear."

Admiral Sellers Succeeds Pringle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(UP)—
Secretary of the Navy Adams today named Rear Admiral David F. Sellers of Austin, Tex., to succeed the late Vice Admiral Joel R. P. Pringle as commander of battleships of the Pacific fleet.

Admiral Sellers will assume the rank of vice admiral. He has been in command of the battleship division one of the Pacific division.

ROOSEVELT IN SPEECH BEFORE N. M. BOURBONS

Makes Open Bid for G. O.
P. Progressive Vote Held
By Senator Cutting

BOARD ROOSEVELT Special.
LAMY, N. M., Sept. 27.—
—(UP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today bid openly for the Progressive Republican vote of New Mexico in a brief address before the Democratic State Convention here.

"In these days," the Democratic presidential nominee remarked,
"our party is the true representative of progressive democracy.
Our party represents liberal ideals.
I am convinced that there is no room in this country for two parties, both of them conservative."

U. S. Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, leader of the Progressive faction in this state, was in the audience that Roosevelt addressed from a platform built on the siding next to his private car.

Cutting recently broke away from the old guard Republican organization of this state, declining to support it in the forthcoming presidential election.

The governor told the crowd that his transcontinental trip was being made for the purpose of determining the economic situation so that "prosperity will be found in every part of the nation when recovery has begun under the new leadership."

Governor Arthur Seligman.

An Indian string orchestra furnished the music while the audience awaited rather impatiently
for the governor to appear.

"Take an alarm clock in there,"
someone shouted when Roosevelt
did not show up immediately upon the train's arrival.

'KING OF BOMBERS' CAUGHT IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Police seized James Belcastro, known as "king of the bombers," in a west side haunt today and held him for questioning in the bombing of Judge John P. McGoerty's home last week.

With Belcastro, the officers found Hornie Lieberman, who also was held. The arrests brought the suspects retained in the case to five.

A boy and girl were named when the bomb exploded on a sidewalk in front of the judge's home.

JUDGE THROWS OUT ROCHESTER'S SUIT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—(UP)— —Suits of State Senator George W.
Rochester to contest the nomination of William D. Campbell as the Republican nominee for the 14th congressional district was dismissed today by Superior Judge Leon K.
Yankwich, who sustained a dismissal motion by counsel for Campbell.

Judge Yankwich denied the motion of Attorney Walter K. Tuller for dismissal of Rochester's second action demanding a recount of votes cast for the office in the recent primary election. He ordered the hearing to proceed on this petition.

COUNTRY DEVASTATED

Disaster Said to Be Worse Than That Which Swept Same Country in 1928

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—
(UP)—Governor Beverly of Puerto Rico reported to the war department today that 34 persons were dead and 200 injured in the vicinity of San Juan as a result of a hurricane which struck the island last night.

Beverly said "it is feared the whole island is devastated."

Secretary of War Hurley replied, expressing sympathy. He assured Beverly that he and the Red Cross "expect to assist in rendering aid."

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Sept. 27.
—(UP)—Porto Rico has been devastated by a terrific hurricane, leaving vast property damage and an unknown toll of dead and injured.

The staff of the newspaper El Mundo expressed belief the disaster was greater than the catastrophe of 1928, but the island was without communications. In three small towns just south of San Juan 32 dead were reported up to 11 a. m.

Except for the reports brought in by courier from Bayamon, Rio Piedras and Guayanabo, all towns in the island were cut off from communication. San Juan and adjacent towns were without water and power.

Hundreds of buildings were unroofed here and sections of the town were under water.

The storm approached the city shortly before midnight with high winds prevailing, and for about four hours the streets were raked by terrific wind gusts which did great damage. It is feared they also took a heavy toll of casualties.

The city of more than 100,000

FOREIGN WAR VETS TO AID STATE POOR

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 27.—
(UP)—California's plan to distribute surplus food products to the needy was given new impetus today with the mobilization of two new groups to help with the work, and an appeal by Governor Rolph for financial aid from the public.

An offer from the Veterans of Foreign Wars of California to sponsor surplus food distribution in northern California was accepted by the governor.

Another offer of aid was forwarded by leaders of the northern California surplus food distributors, an organization said to represent 100,000 unemployed, whereby the plan would be helped through free labor and transportation.

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 27.
(To the Editor of The Register.) Politics pretty quiet over the week-end. Democrats are attacking and Republicans are defending. All the Democrats have to do is promise what they would do if they got in.
But the Republicans have to promise what they would do and then explain why they haven't done it. I do honestly believe the Republicans have reformed and want to do better. But whether they have done it in time to win this election is another thing. The old voter is getting so he wants to be saved before October every election year.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PORTO RICO IS DEVASTATED BY SEVERE STORM

population was thrown into turmoil when the punishing wind steadily increased its intensity during the night. The darkness, falling debris and memories of the 1928 storm which ravaged the city with a loss of 271 lives, added to the terror of inhabitants.

The storm, moving at an estimated rate of between 100 and 150 miles an hour, had approached from the seaward islands and after damaging parts of the interior of Porto Rico, moved on toward Santo Domingo and northern Haiti.

A hasty survey of the scene indicated property damage might be as great as in the hurricane of four years ago this September when tens of thousands were left destitute. It was impossible, however, to make accurate estimates of the extent of the disaster immediately after the storm had passed.

VIRGIN ISLANDS IN STORM'S PATH

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Sept. 27.—(UP)—A tropical hurricane which struck these islands last night caused heavy damage, sank small ships in the harbor, blew down wires, uprooted trees and left many houses damaged.

It was believed the injured, if any, were negligible. Engle Simmons, federal special observer, averted a calamity by firing warning guns an hour and a half before the storm struck. The populace took shelter in the more solidly constructed buildings which withstood the storm, thus avoiding casualties.

The storm, centering slightly south, blew from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. The wind velocity was between 90 and the barometer 29.10. Estimates of the damage were so far unavailable. The scheduled legislative elections have been postponed.

MAN INJURED WHEN RUN DOWN BY AUTO

ANAHEIM, Sept. 27.—B. E. Hunt of the Pleasant hotel suffered severe injuries early last evening when he was struck by an automobile, driven by Jack E. Huddleston of 539 West Chestnut street, as he was crossing Center and Clementine streets.

The accident occurred at 6:30 o'clock last evening and the victim was taken to the Anaheim Sanitarium where he was treated. He was reported resting easily this morning and it is thought that he will recover.

Police News

Jake Bhagwansingh, of Anaheim, was lodged in the county jail last night, charged with being drunk. He was brought here by Anaheim officers.

Margiotti handed the witness a bundle of checks, issued by the organization department to Davis. After identifying the checks the witness was asked to tell why they were paid to Davis but Louis M. Treadwell, government prosecutor, objected and was sustained.

Jones identified two other checks, one for $127,415.50 and the other $258.33, issued by the organization department to the Fidelity Trust Co. These checks, he said, were in payment of a principal and interest on a note to Mrs. Jeanne R. Davis, wife of the defendant. This note, Jones explained, was taken over as part of the liabilities of the organization department which they took over from Davis on Sept. 1, 1930.

Jones is secretary-treasurer of the Liberty Bond and Mortgage Co., organized by Davis to help finance the building of local Moose lodges. The witness explained that of the total amount of the check $5,500 was paid to the Fidelity Trust Co. of Pittsburgh in repayment by Miller of a loan to him. The rest was held by the Mortgage Co. as repayment of a $9,350 debt also owed the firm by Miller.

Fairtrace, in order to get rid of the interruptions or telephone calls and late taxpayers, now gets to work at 5:15 in the morning. He works until 7:30 a. m., and then goes home for breakfast. "I get more work done before breakfast than during all the rest of the day," he says.

EVIDENCE IN THEFT CASE GOES TO JURY

Joseph Irving accused of grand theft in connection with the alleged appropriation to his own use of three notes totalling $2328.13 is on trial today before a jury in department one, superior court. The notes, according to Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, were the property of Miss Olive M. Shepard, of Los Angeles. Attorneys for the defense are Otto Jacobs and Clyde Downing of Santa Ana.

The Irving case was called before Superior Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday afternoon. Miss Shepard was the first witness called after selection of the jury. She took the witness stand shortly before 2 o'clock to tell of the transaction whereby Irving is said to have obtained possession of the notes, and was on the stand again this morning.

Jurors selected to hear evidence in the case are: Harry H. Williamson, Mrs. Frank Pitzer, John C. Caverton, John A. Nicklett, Mrs. Vida Pryor, Mrs. Clyde Watson, Forrest Gay, H. A. Miller, Mrs. E. J. Browne, Henry Bandick, C. E. Lewis, and W. H. Aupperle.

Police Arrest 6 On Drunk Counts

Six Mexicans, alleged to have been making a disturbance in front of the post office at Delhi late last night, were rounded up by Santa Ana police officers and lodged in the county jail on drunk charges. The men gave the names of Joaquin Espinosa, 16; P. Haines, 39; Pete Haines, 36; Delores Haines, 45; Santos Alvarado, 19, and Frank Alvarado, 17.

The arrests were made by Chief of Police F. W. Howard, Captain Jess Buckles and Officer Joe Ryan.

tional campaign. However, he has commended several of Roosevelt's campaign utterances, and without exception been sharply critical of President Hoover.

Brookhart's action added new significance to President Hoover's scheduled campaign speech in Des Moines, Ia., early next month, when he will make his bid for the farm vote, and especially that of his native state. The administration's economic relief program has been assailed repeatedly by Brookhart as inadequate.

Iowa went overwhelmingly for President Hoover in 1928. The last Democratic candidate for president to carry it was Woodrow Wilson in 1912. In 1924 the Republican national ticket swept the state, but Brookhart barely won out then as the Republican candidate for the senate. He defeated his Democratic opponent by less than 1000 votes out of a total vote of nearly 900,000.

PROBLEMS FOR BOYS OUTLINED BY HENDERSON

"There are three questions confronting each of you boys as you step from youth into manhood," said Superintendent of Schools Frank A. Henderson, sounding the keynote for the united H-Y clubs in their initial meeting last night at the Y. M. C. A.

"First, each of you must face the question, 'What shall I do?' You are preparing to take your places in the world. You must help to meet changing conditions. You must share the obligation to supply the things that the world needs. What you must do is answered in large measure by your answer to the second question, 'What shall I serve?' 'You are today finding countless opportunities as you pass through our institutions of learning. You are thrown with many types of people. The way in which you meet people and situations will determine your habits of life, and your habits will determine your life.

Habits Important

"Habit is well illustrated by a field on which are falling drops of water. These first few drops trickle down the slope cutting a tiny groove, but each succeeding drop cuts that groove deeper until there is no question as to the course the water will follow. That is the way with your habits, and your habits of loyalty and service will decide what you are going to do. You must serve some ideal, some purpose. You may as well choose the highest and best.

"A third question, which does not yet interest a good many of you, is the question, 'Who shall be my mate?' Even though many of you are too young to reach decisions on this question, it is none too soon to lay the foundations for your answer. Our detention homes, reform schools, prisons and insane hospitals are full of people because some failed to find the correct answer to this question.

"Tennyson makes Lancelot say, 'I am a part of all that I see.' Everything that you do and see becomes a part of your life, so it behooves you to choose those things which you are willing to have become a part of you. Build into your life the things for which you will not blush in later years."

Hold Joint Meetings

The meeting, attended by some 50 boys and their adult counselors, marked the beginning of the organized H-Y work for the season. Clubs are being organized in most of the churches, with a program which includes separate meetings of the clubs in their respective churches, and a monthly joint meeting at the Y. M. C. A. for inspiration and for consideration of projects on which they are to work.

A complete outline for study and discussion has been prepared for use by the leaders of the groups, so that all the H-Y clubs may follow the same line of thought in their own meetings. The general theme for October is "Problems of School Life," following out the principles set up by Henderson in last night's address. The next joint meeting is set for October 24, when the subject of "Youth and Citizenship" will be discussed under able leadership.

At last night's meeting, J. A. Crutson, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. boys' work committee, presided. Group singing was led by D. H. Tibbals with John Henderson at the piano. Harold Lutes played trumpet solos, and the plans for the season's H-Y work were presented by R. C. Smedley, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Judge Tells Man To Quit Dancing

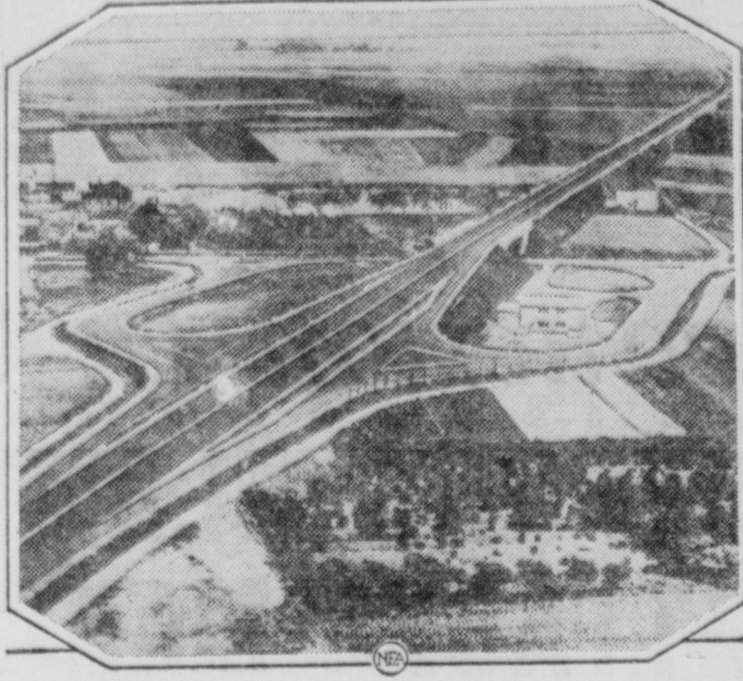

Raymond Van Horn, Santa Ana, is through with dancing and he must go home by 10 p. m.

That was the condition of a suspended sentence meted out to him in the city police court yesterday by Judge J. G. Mitchell.

Van Horn was arrested last Saturday night on a charge of being drunk.

SAFETY HIGHWAY

With no intersecting streets to cause accidents, the super-highway shown here, just completed in Germany after three years' construction, is the latest attempt in that country to cut the growing list of automobile accidents. The road, near Wesseling, is more than 55 feet wide, and is approached on ramps running in the direction of moving traffic. It crosses all feeder roads by means of bridges.

ISSUE WARRANT FOR L. A. LAWYER

J. Harvey Hearn, Los Angeles attorney, who called attention to the court several days ago, that L. E. Ross, court reporter in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court who took the evidence in the case of Hilario Torres, was not an official reporter, today found himself in a "jam" with the court.

As a result of his action, the court ordered the hearing of Torres, charged with possession of Indian hemp (marijuana plants) held again in the justice court. Hearn, attorney for the Mexican, failed to make his appearance in court today and Justice Kenneth Morrison issued a bench warrant for him on the charge of contempt of court.

Kellogg Appointed First Lieutenant

Announcement has been made from headquarters of the Ninth Corps Area of the United States Army, at the Presidio of San Francisco, that Robert P. Kellogg, of Santa Ana, has accepted appointment as a first lieutenant in the Infantry Reserve.

Kellogg, operator of Phil's Transfer in this city, has been identified with the National Guard unit in this city for several years.

Cut-Rate Policy Adopted By Store

The Santa Ana Drug company, located at Fourth and Main streets this week has adopted a new policy in merchandising offering its goods now on a "cut rate" plan, which has proved so popular with other drug companies in the city.

New show cases and an entire new line of articles have been put on sale in the store, and the opening days of the new venture have proven highly satisfactory, according to Henry C. Walker, proprietor and manager.

"We are equipped now to meet competition in every department of the drug business and our patrons will find many new articles to choose from in our store," he said.

COOLIDGE SOON TO RETURN TO PUBLIC LIFE

average fell during July to its lowest point, $13.23, a mark never equalled.

The point, which the sponsors of the commission will emphasize is that insurance companies, for instance, have invested certain funds in what all authorities had conceded to be safe and sound stocks and bonds, including many railroad securities.

If these stock and bond values are wiped out by continued fall in earnings, insurance policies, which represent savings, will become valueless. The same is true of investment securities in which many have placed their life savings.

The commission will be expected to propose that the rate making laws be revised to permit adjustments by railroads when and where deemed just and necessary. This responsibility rests today with the interstate commerce commission which refused to permit last year a blanket 15 per cent increase in freight rates.

MINISTERIAL UNION ACTS TO AID WRIGHT ACT

Adding new support to the campaign to preserve the Wright law in the coming election, the Santa Ana Ministerial Union at its meeting yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon all church boards to take appropriate action to bring the question before their respective congregations, and to see that voters are accurately instructed on how to vote and what is involved. The matter was presented by Paul W. Neff, speaking in behalf of the local Board of Strategy, and was enthusiastically endorsed.

A further move that may grow out of this action is the calling of a meeting of all clergymen of Orange county in the near future to set up a vigorous campaign of education on the subject prior to the November election. Steps were taken yesterday to convene such a meeting, in which plans may be agreed upon for massing the vote of all Orange county to support the Wright law for the control of the liquor traffic.

Other matters of business included the selection of Dr. George A. Varner to preach the Thanksgiving day sermon, the First Christian church being agreed upon as the place for the Thanksgiving service. Plans were started for the observance of the annual Week of Prayer in January.

Endorsement of the plans for the Community Chest campaign and pledges of hearty cooperation in carrying out the work were made by the ministers present, many of whom will devote time to sermons on themes connected with this great community enterprise during the next few weeks.

GERRARD BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION; IS LEASED TO NEW MARKET CONCERN

With finishing touches now being made on the brick and steel market building at 1006 South Main street, A. W. Gerrard, owner of the property, announced today that a lease had just been completed with the Orange county unit of the Wholesale-Retail Food Markets, incorporated.

The building, which is 90 by 110 feet in dimension, is expected to be ready for occupancy next week. It will be the largest food market operated by one firm in Orange county.

Gerrard started construction of the building about two months ago, motivated largely by a desire to aid in relieving the unemployment situation in the community, and all labor and material was secured locally. An effort was made to spread the work as far as possible and during the construction period some 150 Santa Ana men were given employment, many of whom had not had work previously for several months.

Charles Hurd, Santa Ana contractor, was foreman in charge of operations, which were handled on a day by day basis.

There are no posts in the building, making a maximum of display space. This was made possible by the steel truss type roof.

The firm which has leased the building from Gerrard is headed by Grant Ellingsworth, of Costa Mesa, with Claude Edwards as general manager, Lewis Gail, of Santa Ana, vice president, and M. D. Haskell, Santa Ana, secretary-treasurer.

Gets Jail Term With Probation

Phillip Hunt was granted probation for three years on a charge of burglary when he appeared Friday before Superior Judge G. K. Seovel for hearing on his application for leniency. One of the terms of his probation is that he spend one year in the county jail.

Hunt was arrested several weeks ago on a burglary charge. He pleaded guilty to having entered the depot of the Rice Transportation company, doing business in Orange under the name of Triangle Transportation company.

REPUBLICANS PLAN DINNER TO RAISE FUND

Plans for a "30 barbeque dinner" to be held next Saturday afternoon at the ranch of Phil Stanton, prominent Republican and member of the state highway commission, were completed last night at a meeting of the Orange County Republican Central committee held in Orange. The dinner will be served at 1 p. m.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., will be one of the guests of honor and principal speaker at the dinner. It was also announced that District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles probably will be present and speak. The ranch is located on Brookhurst road between Lincoln and Orangewood boulevards, two miles west of Anaheim.

The purpose of the dinner, according to members of the central committee, is to raise funds for the approaching general election. It is expected that between 200 and 250 prominent Republicans as well as members of the central committee will attend.

Tickets for the dinner may be secured from P. G. Beisel in Santa Ana and members of the central committee in other sections of the county.

COUNCILMEN AT CONVENTION OF CITY LEAGUE

Four members of the Santa Ana city council left here today for San Diego to attend the annual convention of the California League of Municipalities, which is meeting the first four days of the week there.

Councilman J. L. McBride and City Engineer DeWitt Dudley left yesterday and expect to stay until tonight. The councilmen who left today will return tomorrow night they said. They are: Mayor Paul Witmer, E. G. Warner and William Penn.

Municipal leaders and elective city officers from all sections of California are attending the convention in San Diego, the opening of which yesterday was reported the most auspicious the organization has ever had.

Discussions of municipal government, together with addresses from prominent city officials of the state dot the program, while much in the way of entertainment also has been provided for the visitors.

Balboa Man Speaks To Jaycee Y.M.C.A.

Stressing the importance of individual thinking, R. C. Stroupe of Balboa spoke before members of Santa Ana Junior college Y. M. C. A. last night on the subject of "Message of the Master." The address followed a 6:30 banquet held in the jaycee cafeteria with all new students of the college as guests. Morris Singer, president, announced a program consisting of piano and solo numbers presented by Earl Motley, George Farquhar and Tom Flippen.

SEEK ADVANCE GIFTS TOTAL OF $32,000 IN CHEST DRIVE; TEAM PERSONNEL COMPLETED

The five units of the advance gifts department in the welfare and relief fund appeal for $53,000 started today its eight day appeal to raise better than one-half of the total goal of the campaign.

At a meeting of the committee: Finley, Alex Brownridge, E. T. McFadden and C. E. Utt. Unit D, with Jules Markel as vice chairman, includes O. H. Barr, J. F. Burke, W. C. Jerome, J. S. Smart, George Newcomb and Earl Morrow.

A. N. Zerman is vice chairman in charge of unit E and has working with him Elmer Steffensen, W. B. Williams, T. E. Stephenson, Chas. F. Smith, George Smith, W. H. Spurgeon, Charles Rutledge, M. B. Wellington, T. A. Winbiger, and R. C. Raddant.

The individual quotas assigned to each unit of the advance gifts committee are as follows—A, $6000; B, $3000; C, $8000; D, $3200 and E, $9000.

During today some of the divisions of the advance gifts will add further members to the total of their workers.

KREG Will Assist
Through the courtesy of radio station KREG, the first of a series of Community Chest broadcast programs will start on Thursday evening as part of the program to supply the city with detailed information regarding the welfare and relief activities to be carried forward under the nine chest agencies, according to Judge J. B. Tucker, who has accepted the leadership of the campaign public relations committee.

"Without one cent of cost to the Chest, KREG has offered us time on the air as a part of their support of this major community project," Judge Tucker said. "There will be a program of fine music and short fact-giving talks and it will be worth while for everyone to listen in between 7:15 and 7:45 o'clock."

This evening leaders in the establishment's employees department of the campaign will meet to finish their arrangements and arrange for calls to name the firm chairman of all companies employing seven or more persons.

The establishment's department is led this year by a veteran organizer and community leader. Under the direction of John Cranston, this department will seek the support of all the employees of the larger companies of Santa Ana.

"We feel that this year, with 52 per cent of the chest funds going for direct welfare and relief that every employed man and woman will want to do a liberal share," says Cranston. "We are hoping that their average subscriptions will go way above the minimum of one and one-fourth per cent of income, which has been set as the average level for people outside of the business and advance gifts groupings."

Sam Hurwitz, as vice chairman of unit C will work with H. P. Rankin, W. A. Taylor, J. P. Baumgartner, George Dunton, S. H.

JURY DECLARES TWO GUILTY IN ARSON ACTION

Henry Eli and John Rose were found guilty of arson late yesterday by a jury in department one, superior court. Superior Judge H. G. Ames, before whom the case was tried set Friday morning at 9:30 as the time for pronouncement of judgment.

The case went to the jury yesterday morning at 11:35 a. m. The verdict was returned at 4:10 p. m.

One of the most damaging bits of evidence introduced in the hearing by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner was a statement by Eli in which he admitted his connection with the fire that destroyed an apartment building owned by E. F. Tabor of Los Angeles and a previous unsuccessful attempt to fire the building.

According to Eli's statement he soaked the inside of the building and mattresses in the apartments of the building, with a mixture of gasoline and turpentine and informed the police that an attempt had been made to fire the building. He also declared in his statement that he prepared the building for the fire that actually did destroy it and that a man from Los Angeles applied the torch. Eli declared in his statement that the work was done at the suggestion of Rose.

BABEBALL GRABBED HIM
Henry Oana, Hawaiian outfielder of the San Francisco Seals, came to this country to enter St. Mary's college, but he made such a hit playing semi-pro ball before starting his studies that a Seals contract was offered him and he changed his plans. Oana hasn't been home since he came here four years ago.

M. O. D. STATEMENT CORRECTS AD ERROR

A request was made by the Mutual Orange Distributors, through Bruce McDaniel, advertising manager, to correct an error which appeared in their advertisement last week.

The announcement, which was concerning the M. O. D. plan for co-operation between shipping agencies in lieu of the abandoned prorate plan, stated that the Garden Grove Mutual Orange association had joined with other M. O. D. houses affiliated with the organization in approving the M. O. D. plan. Such was not the case, the correction indicated.

"The Garden Grove Mutual Orange association is perfectly justified in calling attention to the error," the announcement said.

GRAHAM INQUEST TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Inquest into the tragic death of Mrs. Alice Graham, 23, of Glendale, killed Sunday night in an automobile-truck crash at Seventeenth street and the Garden Grove road, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Winbiger Funeral home, Coroner Abbey announced today.

Mrs. Graham was a passenger in a car driven by Shirley Kennedy, Santa Ana man. His car was struck by a heavy tomato laden truck driven by Steven E. Markinko, 35, of Oceanside.

The truck turned over on the Kennedy car after it had turned turtle on the northwest corner of the intersection and Mrs. Graham was killed instantly. Kennedy escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

HEARING ON ROAD DISTRICT IS POSTPONED

Hearing on the report of Nat Neff, county highway superintendent, on the proposed acquisition and improvement district for San Juan-by-the-Sea was continued this morning by the board of supervisors. The hearing which started this morning was for the purpose of determining whether or not present assessments and those that would be required under the proposed widening program would exceed 50 per cent of the true value of the property.

Under the state law a hearing on the matter of debt limitation is necessary before adoption of a resolution of intention in the event 15 per cent of the property owners in the district protest the project. The proposed district, if formed, would provide for the widening of Forrest avenue through acquisition of 10 feet on either side of the present right-of-way.

Objections filed this morning stated that the work was not necessary and urged that the expense be not incurred. Objectors declared that the majority of the property involved is ranch holdings and not to be subdivided and a highway is not required. Albert Pryor, owner of more than 15 per cent of the property, in his written protest charged that the work is being done at this time for the purpose of relieving private persons of the expense of maintaining drainage ditches on the east side of the proposed highway.

The continuance was ordered due to the absence of Supervisor George Jeffrey in whose district the proposed district is located. Deputy District Attorney William Menton called attention of protestors who were objecting to the work on the grounds of benefits and damages, that the hearing started today is merely for the purpose of determining whether or not existing assessment and future levies would remain within the debt limitation set by law.

THE FORT DEARBORN MASSACRE
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the artist, N. C. Wyeth... inspired by the heartless treachery of a band of vicious Miami Indians, who massacred the settlers with inhuman ferocity... August 15, 1812.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"

—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK AT MEET OF KIWANIS

John Brown, noted evangelist who opened a revival campaign in Santa Ana this week, will be the featured speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club which will be held in Ketter's cafe Wednesday noon. It was announced today by W. B. Martin, secretary.

Gospel singers will provide music for the meeting. Hugh Gerrard will officiate as chairman of the day.

A corrected list of nominees for election as directors of the club was made public today. Nominees for the three directorships open are George Smith, Ed Swift, Sam Hurwitz, Ellis Diehl, Loren Moore, Hiram Curry, Jerry Hall, M. B. Yonel, Phil Lutz, George Wells, George Dunton and George Parker. Ten members of the local club attended the district forum meeting at La Habra Thursday night when W. J. Tway, representing the Santa Ana club, won the forum contest and will represent this district at the San Francisco convention in October.

Birthday of four club members, O. A. Haley, W. B. Martin, Orlyn Robertson and John Ross, will be honored at the meeting this week.

Form Club For Music Students

MIDWAY CITY, Sept. 27.—Blue Bird club members, music pupils of Miss Arline Birchard, of Santa Ana, met for their monthly club meeting in the M. J. P. Hall home recently with 23 pupils and mothers present.

A new club for the older pupils was organized and was named The Music "A" club. This club will enjoy various musical treats and the first of these planned is an opera party to Los Angeles October 8. The members are to provide entertainment at the October Blue Bird club meeting, which is to be held in the home of Miss Birchard, each pupil to give a musical number.

Four of the new club members were present at this club meeting, the Misses MaryLou Hare, Annabel Day, Hazel Hill and Marvina Penhall while others are to attend the opera party.

Home made candies were served by Mrs. Hill to the group present at the party which included besides the four already mentioned, Mrs. William Hannagan, Jeanette Hannagan, Mrs. Fred Bradley, Maxine Bradley and cousin, Mrs. Francis Penhall, Marvin Penhall, Mrs. Harold Robertson, Mildred Robertson, Julianne Day, Mrs. Armand Hill, Betty Hill, Mrs. D. D. Campbell, Barbara Campbell, Audrey Penhall, Virginia Brown, Miss Arline Birchard, Dorothy Hill, and the hostess, Mrs. M. J. P. Hill.

GERMANY CHARACTERIZED AS "POLITICAL MADHOUSE" AS HITLER FIGHTS FOR POWER

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The gyrations and twists of German politics in recent weeks have been almost beyond belief. Politicians say one thing for years, then do just the opposite. They assent each other in bitter speeches, then sit down and lunch together and offer each other jobs. In the following article, Milton Bronner, European manager for The Register and N.E. Service, has brought together a number of amazing developments which show just what a political madhouse Germany is today.)

By MILTON BRONNER
European Manager, N.E. Service

LONDON, Sept. 27.—"Germany is a political madhouse and most of its politicians are politically insane. You can't understand what is going on in Germany unless you firmly grasp this."

So spoke a German business man to your correspondent, and taking recent occurrences in Germany, it would not be difficult to make out a case for what he said.

The bulk of the German middle class and working class is quite sane, as sane as the same classes in the United States. They want a job or little business or farm to assure food, clothes and shelter; to save a little for the proverbial rainy day; to have a little leisure for play and the movie and books.

But it is different with their political leaders. They are incomprehensible.

Here are a few examples:

"RIGHT TO MURDER" IS DEFENDED BY NAZIS

The Nazis under Adolf Hitler have practically set forth this principle: "When is murder not murder? When Nazis kill political opponents."

At Beuthen, in eastern Germany, one of the government's special courts recently condemned to death five Nazis guilty of one of the foulest murders in Germany's troubled annals.

About 13 Nazis late at night en-

HITLER ORGAN JUSTIFIES POLITICAL KILLINGS

One of Hitler's organs asked whether German judges no longer made a distinction "between noble German men and Polish sub-men." Herr Rosenberg, one of his prize editors, declared the intensity of his crime must be judged, not by its nature, but by the race and political opinions involved.

To this Von Papen responded in a speech in which he said he recognized no law that was merely the weapon of one class or party. It was a blow for every German and Christian conception of right. As to Hitler, he did not concede to him and the minority which followed him the right to arrogate to themselves the claim that they were the nation.

NAZI CHIEF IS OFFERED VOICE IN GOVERNMENT

Hitler proclaimed: "More than 300 of our massacred we count as dead martyrs. Ten thousand and again ten thousand have been wounded and many of them are injured for life."

Whereupon the government promptly issued the figures for the present year in Prussia, which is two-thirds of Germany. The total number of killed was 64 Communists, 47 Nazis, 11 belonging to the republican Reichsbanner, one to the Steel Helm.

And after this fiery interchange, Von Papen and Hitler sat amicably together at a lunch and once more Von Papen offered Hitler seats in the cabinet which he refused because he wanted all or none!

And, singularly enough, the government commuted the death sentences of the five men to life imprisonment.

THREAT OF RIOT IN THE REICHTAG ABANDONED

When the new reichstag was about to be opened, it was learned that Clara Zetkin, the militant Communist, would be entitled to preside because she was the oldest person elected to that body.

The Nazis proclaimed in fiery language that they would never tolerate this insult. They threatened a riot. When Clara spoke they did nothing at all. They sat in glacial silence while the old woman denounced them as Fascist murderers.

new paving on Coast highway for WITH FORMER ENEMIES

For years the Nazis have been pouring their scorn on the Catholic Center party. They have called it "the black pest." They have denounced it as the ally of the Marxian Socialists.

In the reichstag the other day they allied themselves with this same party and thus secured the election of Captain Goering, a Nazi, as president of the reichstag.

DENOUNCED CONSTITUTION, NOW STRONG FOR IT

For years the Nazis have denounced the Weimar republican constitution and have said that when they came into power they would make short work of it. No sooner had Goering been elected president of the reichstag than they right-about-faced and put themselves in the attitude of defenders of that same constitution.

Goering, in a speech to the reichstag, said he did not believe the rumors that the reichstag would be dissolved. He was convinced President Hindenburg would act only according to the constitution to which he had taken his oath. The Nazis and Center had constituted a workable majority in the reichstag. There was absolutely no emergency to justify the suspension of the constitution.

REVERSE VIEWS ATTACKING THE REPUBLICAN FLAG

For years there has been nothing about which the Nazis have raved so much as the republican flag of Germany—black, red, gold—which they denounced as the black, red and mustard of the Marxists and Jews.

After Goering was elected president of the reichstag, Dr. Hugenberg's Nationalist party asked him to have the republican flag removed from the reichstag. Goering refused.

WASHINGTON

TOSS

The world is walking on stilts. There is substantial confidence in high places that she will get through the next few weeks without a tumble. But no one will bet on it.

Two hazardous spots making the sitting dangerous—the Far East and Switzerland.

Our diplomats in the Orient cannot find out what the Japs are doing to them. They fear an alliance between Japan and Russia. Their confidential dispatches—just as the public news—have veered that way.

You cannot believe everything you read out of Tokio or Moscow in these days. Those propaganda factories have delicate personal axes to grind.

That means it is still doubtful how far Japan will get in her desperate efforts to link up with the Soviets.

A few weeks ago she was going to make war on the Reds. Now crimson is her favorite color. She apparently is fostering the best rumors about her Soviet clasp for the effect it will have on the League of Nations and Secretary Stimson.

The Soviets have done little to discredit the appearance of an alliance. They too realize the effect those stories will have toward hastening Russian recognition by the United States.

A far more serious cause for worry appears to come from Geneva.

Inside wires are buzzing with indications that a disarmament agreement is near. The latest private news is that France will agree to abandon most of the armaments denied to Germany under the Versailles treaty.

That is the French concession supposed to have been won by Mr. Hoover's personal ambassador without portfolio—Senator David A. Reed.

Many details remained to be settled when this information reached the best sources here. That induced caution in high places.

Somehow European nations always agree in principle and never in detail which always prevents any agreement whatsoever.

The stories early in the week about Russia recognizing Manchukuo and Japan getting all from Russia in quantities were apparently premature.

They emanated from the propaganda factories, but there is every inside reason to believe they will come true, possibly before you read this.

Such a move is to the mutual advantage of the two. The Soviets want peace and the Japs want oil.

STRAWS

The figures from the first eleven states in the national poll conducted by a weekly magazine will offer a lesson in political diplomacy. They will be made public shortly.

Among other things they will show: Mr. Hoover carries five states; Mr. Roosevelt six.

Mr. Hoover with an electoral plurality; Mr. Roosevelt with a majority of the popular vote.

It would be hard to make things more even than that.

The only sensation in the figures is in Pennsylvania. Roosevelt has been leading in that Republican stronghold by nearly two to one since Digest returns started coming into their office.

Mr. Hoover leads in New England, New York and New Jersey. Roosevelt is leading in Ohio and California.

The background slant on the poll is that it covers the strongest Republican territory, and gives Roosevelt virtually a tie in regions where you would expect him to run behind.

PEP

Efficiency of the Republican publicity campaign has picked up 100 per cent since the Maine wash-out.

New York, Washington and Chicago headquarters are functioning in a peppy way. Only at the White House does the fumbling continue.

There the serious statement was officially made that the President would not go to the world series because "he has work to do for his country." He attended the world series in all previous years.

Also the presidential publicity man confessed ignorance as to where the President was to speak in Des Moines. He left the clear, though possible erroneous inference that a crowd was being denuded up which would omit the striking farmers.

NOTES

One thing that Reed fixed is expected to stick—non-recognition of Manchukuo by the French. . . . Sometimes these war debts prove a blessing in disguise. . . .

The best explanation of the Maine election result is that housewives there could buy a dozen eggs, a sack of potatoes and a loaf of bread for 36 cents. . . . The R. F. C. is not doing anything more than it must in its reports to Congress on loans. . . . Members will frankly tell you they do not sympathize with the law and intend to withhold everything legally possible. . . . They think they are acting in the interest of those to whom loans are made. . . .

NEW YORK

By James MacMullin

ELECTIONS

A group of business men with powerful financial affiliations recently held a directors' meeting in Philadelphia. It was the unofficial but unanimous consensus of the meeting that Roosevelt is likely to carry Pennsylvania by a surprising majority.

The Republican publicity interpreter the LaFollette defeat in the Wisconsin primaries as a hopeful sign that Wisconsin is safe for them. Privately their interpretation is entirely different. If either of the successful candidates ever mentioned Hoover's name in his campaign it was an unintentional oversight. State Republicans have no interest in the National ticket.

A poll started by a Milwaukee radio station brought in a vote of 234 to 17—favor of Roosevelt—the first day.

Roosevelt hasn't made the mistakes on his western trip that the Republicans hoped. Correspondents report that they are especially worried about California. It is privately conceded by Republican insiders that their only chance in that state is to keep Smith supporters away from the polls.

McAdoo's Chicago stunt and the Klan are heavily featured via discreet channels.

STRATEGY

Leader Curry of Tammany pulled a nice bit of strategy for publicity purposes by staging a vote of confidence in his leadership from his executive committee. The vote was known to be perfectly safe beforehand or the issue would not have been raised. It was safe because Tammany realized its only hope of regaining old time prestige and power in the five boroughs is to maintain a united front. It was wise because it concluded the services for Jimmy Walker as well as for Marty McCue whose funeral had been held that day.

JUDGESHIPS

Certain Bronx lawyers with supreme court aspirations have been burning up the long distance wires begging Leader Flynn to come home from Roosevelting and tend to his muttons. They are afraid that his absence will give Tammany a chance to grab off all four nominations at the Manhattan-Bronx judicial convention this week.

R. F. C.

The R. F. C.'s refusal to take action at present on a loan to the Baltimore & Ohio to pay off maturities due next March should not be taken too seriously. This loan will be forthcoming as the consolidation plans disclose needs.

The issue in question happens to be one that is held almost entirely by the public—not by the banks.

Reliable dope here indicates that Gifford Pinchot is all wet in his claim of R. F. C. prejudice against Pennsylvania. Pinchot failed to give certain information that must accompany an application and the R. F. C. Board is very particular these days that their rules shall be rigidly respected. They are taking no chances of being accused of laxity when the shooting is all over.

Local Republican headquarters is quite upset about this situation. Reports from Pennsylvania indicate that it has already cost Hoover thousands of votes.

SPENDING

Business men in New York are much interested in the current visit here of Fred Bohen—son-in-law of the late Secretary of Agriculture Meredith under Wilson and president of the Meredith Publications. Bohen is organizing a campaign to encourage retail spending by those who can afford it and to defeat the psychology which makes people ashamed to buy a car or build a house. Headquarters of the movement will be in Des Moines. The cooperation of many publishers and business men has already been secured.

BUSH, RUFFING, PITCH FIRST SERIES GAME Schmeling Eats Little Fight By Stopping Walker

MICKEY LASTS EIGHT ROUNDS WITH GERMAN

BY JACK CUDDY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey's next heavyweight championship bout has been determined by one of the bloodiest, most sensational ring battles since Luis Firpo battered Jack Dempsey through the ropes—by Max Schmeling's technical knockout of Mickey Walker after he floored the "Toy Bulldog" twice.

The twice-postponed Schmeling-Walker contest came to a close after eight rounds of slugging and clinching. Walker, after holding his own in the early rounds, was definitely under a two-fisted attack by the German in the final round.

Mickey, long before he was beaten, flashed over staggering rights and lefts to Maxie's head. Especially in the fourth and fifth rounds, Schmeling was in such danger then that his supporters implored him to go in and score the blow they believed would end the fight.

But Der Max weathered those storms, and in the seventh round took the lead and held it until the show was over.

Kearns Stops Fight
The end came with a dramatic suddenness seldom equalled in heavyweight championship fights, and almost never shown in a non-title affair.

Walker no sooner sat down in his corner at the end of the eighth, than Jack Kearns, his manager, began a one-sided argument. Their conversation ended when Kearns strode away and beckoned to Referee Jack Denning. The referee nodded to Announcer Joe Humphries. Schmeling was termed winner by technical knockout.

One spectator was Jack Sharkey. He was faced today with a certain demand for a return bout with the German who succeeded to the title vacated by Gene Tunney. Schmeling won the title on a foul in a bout with Sharkey recognized as a fight to decide the championship.

Schmeling's first title defense came in a bout with Willie Stripling of Georgia. Max won his fight by a technical knockout in the final round. His next defense came in the bout last June with Sharkey.

Schmeling always a slow starter, hit his stride at the start of the eighth round. The round was less than a minute underway when he shot a crushing right jolt to Mickey's left temple. Mickey's knees buckled. He fell to the canvas. Gammely Walker rose at the count of six. Blood streamed from his mouth. Schmeling floored him again with a hard right to the jaw. Mickey took the count of nine and staggered to his feet. Schmeling, eager for a knockout, swarmed over him pounding lefts and rights to the face. Then the bell clanged.

When the gong sounded again for the ninth, Walker tried to rise from his stool, but Jack Kearns placed an arm around his shoulder and insisted: "It's all over, Mickey."

Kearns realized that Walker was a beaten man. He could hardly see from either eye, and blood streamed from his mouth and a cut on the bridge of his nose.

The boxing commission announced the result as a technical knockout in eight rounds.

The battle was a benefit for the Free Milk Fund for Babies Inc. of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman. It was witnessed by about 45,000 fans who paid $156,000 in estimated receipts.

FOXX, KLEIN 'MOST VALUABLE' PLAYERS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Jimmy Foxx, new home run king of the Athletics, and "Chuck" Klein, hard-hitting outfielder of the Phillies, have been designated the most valuable players to their teams in 1932 by The Sporting News' annual selection announced today.

Electric Board Will Play Series In S. A.

Goin' to the world series?

The Register will "play" it for you on its big, electrically-controlled and operated scoreboard, beginning tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. Santa Ana time.

There will be games Wednesday and Thursday. When the scenery shifts to Chicago Saturday, game-time here will be at 11:30 a. m.

The scoreboard was tested and hoisted into place yesterday at The Register building. Third and Sycamore streets. Come down tomorrow and "see" the Cubs and Yanks fight it out for baseball supremacy.

SATURDAY NEW DATE FOR DON NIGHT CONTEST

Through definite action taken today, the Santa Ana junior college-Loyola Freshmen night football game, previously arranged for Friday, has been postponed until Saturday night.

An Orange Empire conference meeting in Riverside last night, at which President D. K. Hammond and Dean McKee Plisk represented Santa Ana, resulted in the drafting of a definite league schedule, and to avoid a conflict with the Santa Ana-Long Beach H. game here October 8, the 1932 junior college arrangement calls for a tentative night game with San Bernardino in Municipal Bowl, Friday, October 7.

The new schedule:

October 7—San Bernardino at Santa Ana (Tentative night game in Municipal Bowl).

October 8—Chaffey at Pomona; Citrus at Fullerton; Riverside, bye.

October 15—Pomona at Riverside; Citrus at Chaffey; Fullerton at San Bernardino; Santa Ana, bye. Santa Ana will play a practice game with Pasadena or Ventura here.

October 22—Pomona at Santa Ana; San Bernardino at Chaffey; Riverside at Citrus; Fullerton, bye.

October 29—Santa Ana at Riverside; Citrus at San Bernardino; Fullerton at Chaffey; Pomona, bye.

November 5—Santa Ana at Citrus; Riverside at San Bernardino; Fullerton at Pomona; Chaffey, bye.

November 12—Chaffey at Santa Ana; San Bernardino at Pomona; Riverside at Citrus; Fullerton, bye.

November 19—Santa Ana at Fullerton; Chaffey at Riverside; Pomona at Citrus; San Bernardino, bye.

Date and place of play-off game between Western and Eastern division champions to be announced later.

The junior college executive board agreed to postpone its traditional student-faculty picnic until one week from Friday, but after it was announced today that Friday of October 7 also was taken, board members entered a protest to their advisor, Dean Plisk, who returned requested Coach Cook to make the Saturday change.

G. A. Oliver, head of the physical education department, and President Hammond have expressed opinions that the Saturday date this week will draw the larger crowd. Upwards of 3500 fans will witness the affair, it was estimated.

Admission prices will be 40 cents for the extreme north section of the grandstand and 25 cents for all other seats.

Coach Cook announced that if the Santa Ana-Loyola game is successful from the standpoint of fans and players, the Dons will have no objection to meeting San Bernardino in the Bowl the following week, when the Orange Empire league season gets underway.

Heretofore, H. E. Wilson of Riverside has served as athletic commissioner of the entire Southern California Junior College conference. However, there will be two commissioners during the coming term, one of the eastern division, the other for the Orange Empire conference. Wilson has been selected as head of the Orange Empire division. J. P. O'Mara, dean of men at Pasadena jayvee, will head the western division.

Junior college conference officials have set a definite price schedule for games; 40 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

INSPIRED CUBS TO UPSET DOPE IN BIG SERIES?

(This is the last of a series comparing the New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs.)

By GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—The New York Yankees are overwhelming favorites to win the world series, but the task of beating an inspired team like the Chicago Cubs is quite likely to prove more difficult on the ball field than with statistics comparisons, and betting odds.

The Yankees are a collection of mighty hitters, and once they get a team on the run they can keep it there as they did the Pirates in 1927 and the Cardinals in 1928.

But good pitching can stop a hitting team, even if it boasts sluggers like Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. Powerful attacks have been bottled up and rendered useless by high class pitching in many previous world series. That seems to be the Cubs' main hope against the Yankees in the series opening tomorrow in New York.

Three hurlers shoulder burden. The Cubs are going to depend on Guy Bush, Charley Root and Lon Warneke to stop the Yankees.

Bud Tinning and Bob Smith are not likely to figure in a starting role unless those three prove unequal to the task.

A great deal rests on Bush, picked to open the series. Bush is a stouthearted pitcher. He beat the Athletics in the 1929 series, and is now finishing his best year in baseball. If he should happen to beat the Yankees in the opener, the Cubs are apt to believe themselves a super team.

Even if the Cubs lose both games in New York, they are going to prove tough customers for the Yankees at Wrigley Field. During the season the Cubs were about 25 per cent stronger at home than on the road.

The Yankees' pitching staff, aided by a better attack, is better than the Cubs on the matter of games won and lost during the season, and may even prove better in a short series. "Red" Ruffing, "Lefty" Gomez and George Pipgras are great pitchers. John

COAST LEAGUERS IN LAST WEEK OF RACE

PORTLAND, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Only the Seattle Indians stood between Portland and the Pacific Coast league championship today.

Two games in front of the Hollywood Stars, the Ducks entered the final week of the season confident of bringing Portland the first pennant the Oregon city has seen in 18 years.

Hollywood, toppled from the league leadership a month ago by the ambitious Ducks, opens its final series of the season today against Los Angeles.

The boy from Mt. Ida, Ark., broke into baseball with Houston, signing with that Texas aggregation in 1928. He was sent to the Cotton States league, to play with Laurel, Miss., but made such an unimpressive showing there—winning only six out of 20 games—that he was shunted forth into the bushes.

In 1929 he made his best showing in the minors, winning 16 out of 26 for Alexandria. This brought him to the attention of the Cubs' management, and he was given a trial in 1930.

The result was discouraging, both to the Cubs and to Warneke. He was sent back to the woods and played with Reading. There he worked 34 games, in many of which he took a relief role. But the best he could do was to cop the nod in nine and drop the decision in 12.

Back to the Cubs came Warneke last year. He started and finished in his usual discouraging style, taking part in 20 games and winning two while losing four.

But this year it's a different story with big Lon. He started out as a regular first stringer and now tops the league's twirlers.

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES—Three regulars were sent back to the second string and replaced with heavier men today to give the U. S. C. Trojan backfield more power. Two changes in the line made a part of the drastic lineup. Bob Erskine, sub tackle, replaced Cal Clements at right halfback; Homer Griffith, coach's quarter, replaced Baras at fullback; and Bob Neish, star passer, replaced Gordon Clark at left halfback. Ellwood Johnson replaced Lou Jones at center and John Dwyer went in at right guard in place of Stevens. All the new men are heavier than their predecessors.

LOS ANGELES—Blocking, blocking and more blocking was the program of Loyola gridmen today. Flaws in the attack came to the notice of Tom Lieb in the game with Caltech, and in an effort to smooth his offense for the Arizona contest Saturday at Tucson, the coach has been concentrating in practice. It is difficult to tell just how strong the Lions are this year, as no time has the full team been on the field at one time.

BERKELEY—Coach Ingram expected to begin revamping the California backfield at today's practice session in preparation for the Bears' encounter with the Olympic club Saturday. Hank Schaidach, Ingram's star halfback, will be on the sidelines until next week with his ankle, injured in Saturday's defeat at the hands of Santa Clara.

PALO ALTO—Satisfied that his big Indian team has overcome its fumbling habits, Coach "Pop" Warner will drill the Stanford squads on intricate offensive plays this week in preparation for their game Saturday with Oregon State at Portland.

MORAGA—George Wilson and Charlie Baird will be in shape for action in the St. Mary's backfield against Nevada Saturday, according to Coach Hendigan. Santa's "Greta" Garbo, who appeared to advantage in the Gaels' backfield against West Coast Army Sunday will be out indefinitely with injury.

SANTA CLARA—Elated at their victory over California, Santa Clara's "Broncos" went to work today to prepare a defeat for another Pacific Coast conference team this week. The Broncos will have their full manpower for use against Oregon, Coach "Clipper" Smith said.

REAL TEST AHEAD FOR SAINTS

Compton to Bring Formidable Squad Here Friday

DONS MAY LOSE CAPTAIN HALL

There may be quite an argument as to whether the Saints' victory at Poly field Friday afternoon before Santa Ana H's football club rolls up its seventeenth successive victory.

Compton's Terrible Tartars are coming to town with enough advance notices to toss a few chilly into the camp of "Tex" Oliver, Bill Foote and Company.

Considered by coastal critics as the class of this year's Bay League, and a virtual clinch to represent that division in the annual Southern California titular playoff series, Compton promises a genuine workout for the Southern California champions.

Compton's class was tipped off in advance. The Tartars actually challenged the Saints to a contest, and it was hurried at a time when the champions were having an awful time compiling a schedule, several contemplated games falling through because the opposition was "indisposed."

Compton indicated its caliber last week when it scrimmaged Long Beach Poly and pushed the Jack-rabbits all over the field. The Tartars played Fullerton last Friday, scored two touchdowns in jig-time and then removed their first string in order to give the reserves a second half workout.

Eddie Suggett, onetime Whittier backfield star, is operating as Compton's "head man." He has replaced Herschel Smith.

The Saints went back to work yesterday, right satisfied with themselves after drubbing Orange, 26-7. Oliver's men looked good against Orange but were pretty terrible in scrimmage, Oliver being on the verge of a rage by the end of practice. Blocking was particularly poor, so the first and second team backs, who alternated with plays, both had considerable difficulty making anything go.

Santa Ana emerged from the Orange game in good physical condition. Ford Underwood, guard, wasn't able to drill yesterday because of a hip bruise and Center

Herb Duncan was limping from an ankle injury. They will both be ready Friday, however.

Injuries will keep Captain Jimmie Hall, outside halfback, and LeRoy DeSmet, right guard, out of the Santa Ana junior college-Loyola Freshmen football game at the Municipal Bowl Saturday night, and there is an uncomfortable possibility that Hall will be lost to the Dons for the season. Coach Bill Cook admitted today.

Ever since a recent Long Beach scrimmage, in which he severely wrenched his knee, Hall has been unable to practice. Attempting a light workout yesterday, the Don captain threw his knee out of place again and unless rapid improvement is shown he will miss the majority of conference games.

LeRoy DeSmet, guard, fractured an arm bone against the U. S. C. Freshmen, but should be in condition for San Bernardino October 7.

Tom Carlyle, ranny end who largely accounted for Santa Ana's 13 to 7 victory over the U. S. C. Frosh, received a fractured finger Saturday, but should be ready to go against Loyola. Don Baldwin, huge tackle, sprained his ankle in practice yesterday, and probably will be on the bench Saturday. Cook expected to start Baldwin against Loyola.

Commenting on the Santa Ana-U. S. C. Frosh game, the Don mentor believed the major fault of his players was their running back of punts. He was greatly impressed with Harold Welby, an expects him to develop into something the junior college has needed since 1929—a high class quarterback. Hideo Higashi, Jack-of-all-trades, indicated at right half that if necessary, he can fill the shoes of Captain Hall. Jack Fredericks, "Bono" Koral, Toby Groenow and Bruce Handy, although doing well at times, showed considerable room for improvement. But all four, Cook believes, will develop into 1932 regulars within a week or two.

WORLD SERIES CLOSEUPS

They were a long time giving Babe Ruth a chance, but when the Cubs made a starting pitcher of him early this year, he proceeded to set the National circuit on fire.

The giant 23-year-old right-handed flinger had little success his first couple of seasons up in the big league, nor did he have any better success in the minors.

What are they? Well—Most series—nine, not counting 1932; most series batting—300 or better—five; highest batting average, one series—425; most runs, one series—nine; most runs, one game—four; most runs batted in—27; most home runs—13; most home runs, one series—four; most total bases—85; most total bases, one game—12; most long hits, one series—six; most extra bases on hits—48; most bases on balls, one series—11; most strikeouts—27.

Yet these don't begin to name the great man's records. He's 38, and has been on the job 19 years. The miracle, apparently, is that his chorus girl ankles have held up under the constant pounding of 220 pounds at every step for at least the last 12 of those 19 years.

Ruth started as a pitcher. The late Jack Dunn, owner of the Baltimore Orioles, picked him off a boy's school team. He pitched part of the 1914 season for Baltimore and Providence and then went to the Red Sox to pitch and play the outfield for six seasons. In 1920 the Yankees paid a fabulous sum for his services and immediately capitalized his ability to hit home runs.

He broke a major league record for home runs by hitting 54 his first year with the Yankees. A year later, in 1921, he boosted the record to 59 homers. In 1927, he raised it one more to 60, which stands as the major league peak. Over all, Babe has hit more than 650 home runs. His name is a synonym for the four-base blow.

Oh, yes, here's another Ruthian record. He has personally autographed more baseballs than any dozen other men you can think of.

Miss Palfrey And Perry Net Victors

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Fred Perry of Great Britain and Sarah Palfrey of Boston, National mixed doubles champions, today had added to their triumphs the championship of the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament. They defeated Jiro Satoh of Japan and Mrs. L. A. Harper of Oakland in the finals of the mixed doubles, 6-3, 6-2.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—(INS)—Max Schmeling's share of the Walker fight receipts was tied up today, following granting of a temporary injunction by Supreme Court Justice Shientag restraining the promoters from paying Schmeling until Saturday. On that day the club must show cause why payment should not be delayed pending trial of $100,000 suit against the German heavyweight brought by Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight.

PASADENA, Sept. 27.—(INS)—It was another love match today for Ellsworth Vines, America's premier tennis player. The Pasadena youth, and his fiancée, Miss Verle Low, have filed their marriage intention notices. Miss Low, petite and pretty, is employed in a local cafe. The ceremony will take place Saturday.

SANTA CLARA—Elated at their victory over California, Santa Clara's "Broncos" went to work today to prepare a defeat for another Pacific Coast conference team this week. The Broncos will have their full manpower for use against Oregon, Coach "Clipper" Smith said.

TELL PAIRINGS FOR WILLOWICK GOLF CUP PLAY

With Sunday night set as a deadline when all first round matches must be completed, Willowick Public course golfers this week open fire in the second annual Killingsworth Cup tournament.

Forty-eight players qualified for the championship affair and have been arranged in three flights of 16 each by G. H. ("Red") Wilkins, tournament manager.

Van Pomeroy was medalist, shooting a 74, two over par. R. E. Chapman, 75; Fred Robertson, 76, and J. H. Menges, 76, were next low. Dick Ewert, the defending champion, carded a 79.

First flight players will compete from scratch, but those in the second and third divisions will play from handicaps.

First Flight
Van Pomeroy (74) vs. W. A. McCright (79); E. C. Russell (81) vs. "Doc" Pearson (76); Frank Angell (79) vs. C. Bangs (82); B. J. Morry (79) vs. J. H. Menges (76); Fred Robertson (76) vs. Art Lorette (80); M. Thompson (81) vs. E. Lemcke (78); Robert Keller (79) vs. R. E. Brown (82); Dick Ewert (79) vs. R. E. Chapman (75).

Second Flight
Barney Snee vs. Dee Whitney; N. W. Miller vs. Ned Cooke; C. C. Chapman vs. Earl Christensen; Jesse Ainsworth vs. A. H. Morris; C. H. Weaver vs. Lee Nelson; Rudy Lemcke vs. R. A. Miller; R. L. Smith vs. P. Adams; Bob Weston vs. J. E. Hayward.

Third Flight
E. Pierce vs. Paul Hall; E. Evans vs. Bert Sutton; G. Lumsden vs. G. W. Woolley; Bill Adams vs. H. Jackson; Dean Campbell vs. Barry McPhee; Jack Brecher vs. John Lutz; Dr. Nelson vs. Geo. Mull; Geo. Walker vs. W. H. Wright.

Members of the Willowick Women's club meet again tomorrow morning, with breakfast scheduled at 9 o'clock and the usual free group lesson following. Those bringing guests are asked to make reservations.

Simpson Quits Sprinting After 10 Years

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 27.—(INS)—After 10 years of running, George Simpson, the "Buckeye Bullet" and former "fastest human," has hung up his spiked shoes—probably for life.

For the first time in a decade he can participate in such conviviality as drinking a chocolate soda without feeling that he has turned traitor to his sport.

The temperamental sprinter, who dashed to international renown as a member of the Ohio State university track squad, is glad it's over.

Ten years of the grind, believes the black-haired wing-foot, are enough for any man.

Finis to his successful career as a dasher came during the Olympic games when, for the first time, he ran back of second place. On his return here he put away his track togs and announced he is "through."

HERMAN DEBUT HERE AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Santa Ana's most attractive wrestling program since the gigantic open-air bill held at the Municipal Bowl is scheduled for Thursday night at the Orange County Athletic club when Charlie Herman, sensational young Missouri giant, opposes Ad (Bomber) Herman, Chicago German hammerlock king.

Fresh from spectacular triumphs over such men as "Bull" Hefner, "Wild Dick" Raines, "Tex" Wright, "Indian Jules" Strongbow and others, Santen takes on the rough-est foe of his meteoric career. Herman has met virtually every toponother among the heavy weights the past five years and

WHERE'S THE KRAUT!

The eve of the series, which would cause crowds and stir in smaller cities, left no visible effect on New York. Series absorbed the vanguard of world series tourists without strain.

More than 60,000 fans are expected to attend tomorrow's opener, and although the three-decked grandstand and high banked bleachers surrounding the battle-field will be well filled, Ed Barrow, the Yankees' business manager, said he did not expect a complete sellout.

Babe Ruth reassured any doubters that he was certain to play in the series, and that he was in "sweet shape." He was swinging lustily yesterday in batting practice. He rizzke one of his old bats swinging at Danny MacFayden's curves.

Shikina Wrestles Gross

A bout apt to rival the feature from the standpoint of class and action takes place in the best two-out-of-three falls semi-final between the Japanese heavyweight champion, Oki Shikina, and Ernie Gross, midwest heavyweight who makes his first start in California under Promoter Elmer Willson's banner. Shikina has won 28 out of 30 matches since invading the United States and is rated a matman whose style "takes" with the crowd. Gross, a "dark horse" believes he will have little or no trouble disposing of the jiu-jitsu champion.

MISS HICKS OUT OF WOMEN'S GOLF PLAY

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 27.—(UP)—Match play in the 36th annual Women's National amateur golf tournament began here today with the 1931 champion relegated to the gallery.

Elimination of Helen Hicks of Long Island yesterday marked the first time a defending champion ever had been put out in the qualifying round, so far as available records revealed.

Maureen Oroutt, Haworth, N. J., and Virginia Van Wie, two of the favorites, shared medalist honors with rounds of 77.

BAER STOPS 'TUFFY' IN SEVENTH ROUND

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(UP)—Max Baer's string of unbroken heavyweight victories today had reached 11 straight as a result of his technical knockout of "Tuffy" Griffiths, one time Chicago contender.

DIRECTORY OF CONTRACTORS IS PUBLISHED

The 1932-33 edition of the Who's Who in the California construction industry, comprising the only official directory of registered contractors in the state, will be off the press and ready for distribution October 1, according to word received here by the Orange County Builder's Exchange.

Col. Carlos W. Huntington, state registrar of contractors and director of professional and vocational standards in the governor's cabinet, made the announcement. The directory contains the only complete and official classified alphabetical and geographical listing of all contractors and sub-contractors. In addition, it contains a copy of the state contractor's registration act, and an outline of the scope of the functions of the bureau of contractors' registration, as well as copies of other state laws affecting the building fraternity.

Supplements will be issued periodically with the lists of additional registered contractors, as well as notices of suspensions, revocations and reinstatements.

Copies of the directory may be secured when available through the Orange County Builder's Exchange.

TEAGUE SCORES ROOSEVELT FOR QUERRY FAILURE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—Failure of Franklin D. Roosevelt to answer in his Los Angeles address Saturday, questions on the tariff and other issues asked him by the Republican state committee of California stamps him as lacking the courage to face the serious questions of the campaign, according to Charles C. Teague, G. O. P. chairman for Southern California.

"Not only did the Democratic presidential nominee flinch in the face of political fire at the time of his Los Angeles visit but he branded himself as a mere politician who declines to treat the people fairly or deal with them honestly when he confines his discussion to matters that leaves a question of his motives, of his convictions and of his purposes," Teague declared in an address here last night.

Questions Submitted
When Governor Roosevelt arrived in Los Angeles he was presented with a list of 10 questions on campaign issues of importance to California, and especially the state's agriculturists. Teague said in his address. The Democratic candidate did not answer the questions in his Hollywood bowl address or other public appearances here, Teague asserted.

"Our queries seemed to embarrass the Democratic nominee into complete silence," declared the Republican leader who is a nationally known authority on agriculture and a former member of the federal farm board. "In view of the fact that I sent the questions to Mr. Roosevelt and guaranteed him that his answers would be presented to the people just as he presented them, I must be one of those forgotten men to whom he has referred so often."

After declaring that a Democratic administration tinkering with the tariff would result in disaster for the state's farmers and fruit growers, Teague verbally lambasted the Roosevelt-Hearst-McAdoo political alliance intimating that the Hearst newspapers are supporting the New York governor as the result of a political deal which will not stand the light.

Cites Hearst Change
"A few months ago, before the presidential primary, the Hearst newspapers called Gov. Roosevelt 'timid, vacillating, unstable in mental processes and governed solely by expediency,' Teague declared in his address which was broadcast on a state-wide network of 13 radio stations.

"We are forced to conclude, in view of the right-about-face of Mr. Hearst that the agreement reached by him with Mr. Roosevelt at the Democratic national convention caused him to change his attitude—it not his real opinion—with respect to Mr. Roosevelt," he said.

"Is it possible that a man who was portrayed by Hearst in this manner can have suddenly become the splendid hero endowed with highest virtues and statesmanship now attributed him by the Hearst papers?"

"For myself, I think that Mr. Roosevelt is not as bad a character as Hearst thought him last spring nor the paragon they now acclaim him."

SUNTAN PROTECTION of tan is said Sept. 27. A good coat of tan is said to be healthy, but no one seems to know the reason why. The Smithsonian institution reports that suntan is nature's own way of protecting you from an overdose of ultra-violet rays. When the skin begins to tan it is said that the body has enough ultra-violet rays.

WILL DISCUSS CHILD HEALTH IN KREG TALK

Child health will be discussed tonight at 5:45 over radio KREG by Dr. James Workman, chiropractor in his weekly "Keep Smiling" program. He has announced that the subject for his lecture will be "Do Chiropractors Adjust Infants?" In his talk he will deal with the diseases of children from a chiropractic standpoint.

In addition to his regular lecture Dr. Workman will devote a portion of his program to the answering of "some perfectly natural questions." These questions to be answered are a collection that have been propounded from time to time by interested laymen.

Radio listeners who have been following the "Keep Smiling" programs sponsored by Dr. Workman are reminded that the contest for cash prizes amounting to $15, closes November 15. Contestants are advised to have their advertising matter in by that time. A first prize of $10 will be given for the best collection of health advertisements clipped from newspapers or magazines. The advertisements must mention health and must be mailed to the "Keep Smiling" program, in care of radio KREG.

KREG NOTES

Another "open house" program featuring the Six Harvest Hands will be presented tonight starting at 7:15. Listeners who would like to meet the Harvest Hands are advised to arrive at the studio on time.

The Honolulu Playboys, scheduled for three programs over KREG this week will give the first of the series tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The other two programs will be presented at the same time on Thursday and Saturday night.

Miss Minerva Wislaski, one of the contestants in the recent Artwater Kent audition over KREG will be on the Sunshine Music Club program tonight. Other artists appearing on the program will be Lois Dunham, reader; and Lois Smith, pianist; Mrs. Grace Dennison Schaffer, sponsor of the program, will play several piano numbers.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 27.

Charles Anderson had the misfortune to severely injure one foot Wednesday evening when he fell over a cement block in the yard.

His father, Harry Anderson, who last week was injured in a fall, is able to be about his dairy work again.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edward have moved to the George Glough house north of the Westminster school, which was vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bickmore, who moved to a house just east of their service station on Westminster avenue. The Edward house, which was sold to Carl Parker, of Huntington Beach, service station man, is now occupied by the new owner and family.

Ryverz Allen, who since the close of school in June, when he graduated from the Huntington Beach High school, has been staying at the H. B. Anderson home, has secured employment with his brother-in-law in one of the northern oil fields.

Miss Leora Blakey accompanied friends to San Bernardino, Wednesday. She was the guest for the day of her cousin, Mrs. Lou Herman, matron of the San Bernardino county detention home.

J. L. Edwards spent the week end in the San Diego mountains at Milne ranch.

BREA

BREA, Sept. 27.—Sergeant V. Lawrence Casner has reached San Francisco on his way home from Panama, having nearly finished his term of enlistment. He will be allowed two months furlough in which to decide whether he wishes to re-enlist or not. He expects now to re-enlist for service in Hawaiian Islands.

Ira Mullar, at Birch street, is home from Orcutt where he is working for the Union Oil company for a few days.

H. L. Riley, employed by the Union Oil company at Orcutt, is moving his family there the first of October.

BANK ADVERTISING OBTAINS RESULTS

The Bank of America in three months spent $261,000 on its "Back to Good Times" advertising campaign under the slogan, "California Can Lead the Nation to Good Prosperity," according to Peter Michelson, manager of the bank's advertising department, in an address before the convention of the Financial Advertisers association, held in Chicago last week. Of this expenditure, Michelson said that 85 percent was concentrated in newspaper advertising in California newspapers. Radio accounted for five percent; outdoor display, four percent, and six percent was indirect by mail and other incidental media.

The success of this advertising campaign, which was majored in the newspapers of the state, according to Michelson, was shown by the progressive changes in the slogan. "Back to Good Times," as business conditions bettered, was changed to "On to Good Times," and later to "Better Times are Here," which eventually must become "Good Times are Here." The Bank of America in three months added 120,000 new customers and $51,000,000 in deposits and is still gaining with $5,000,000 added to normal deposits during the past month. Michelson emphasized the fact that the officials of the bank were firmly convinced that consistent newspaper advertising pays big dividends.

IN WAKE OF A HURRICANE

Many buildings and homes were flattened as if by a giant hand when a tropical hurricane swept across the Bahama Islands. This remarkable air view shows the toll of destruction on the Green Turtle Key, Abaco Island, hardest hit by the gale. Ten were killed there, scores injured.

Politically Speaking

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 27.—(UP)

—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's invitation to United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson to get aboard the Roosevelt bandwagon, and Johnson's very cordial but non-committal reply brought the political dope pot to the boiling point this week.

It was at Sacramento that Roosevelt paid high tribute to Johnson, referring to California's senator as "one of the great warriors in the ranks of true American progress."

Roosevelt also recalled that Johnson was Theodore Roosevelt's running-mate on the Bull Moose presidential ticket in 1912.

"I personally immensely appreciate what Mr. Roosevelt said," Johnson commented. "His attitude is in sharp contrast to that Mr.

Hoover has maintained toward Progressivism."

Declare Armistice

Roosevelt's arrival was also a signal for restoration of peace in the ranks of the Democratic party in California. William Gibbs McAdoo, over whom most of the trouble had arisen, accompanied the candidate on his trip through the state and at every stop did a little campaigning on his own hook.

The fact that harmony was personally requested by Roosevelt became apparent when Isidore B. Dockweiler of Los Angeles and Justus S. Wardell, San Francisco both announced their support of McAdoo. It was McAdoo who ousted Dockweiler as national committeeman and took the job himself.

Maurice Harrison, San Francisco attorney who was made chairman of the state central committee, is trying to smooth things over by giving all sides a part in the forthcoming campaign.

What looked like an incipient fight in the Republican ranks over the state chairmanship was also avoided when Leo V. Youngworth withdrew his candidacy in favor of Louis B. Mayer. Youngworth found the cards had been stacked against him by his opponents, who pledged enough votes to elect Mayer at the previous state convention at Sacramento.

Political Gossip

Assemblyman Percy G. West of Sacramento if elected, may be chosen speaker pro-tem of the next assembly. . . . If West is beaten, Ray Williamson of San Francisco or Ray Robinson of Merced may get the job. . . .

The tradition of having a newspaper man on the board of trustees for the new women's prison was perpetuated by Governor Ralph H. Heintzelman.

James Rolph III, son of the governor, has failed to contribute part of his salary to balance the state budget, like other employees, the controller's office said. . . . He is a state pilot commissioner and gets approximately $500 a month.

In Germany, Daniel J. O'Brien, director of penology, sent a postcard to Governor Rolph. . . . It said: "Having a good time. Feeling fine. . . . But there was no 'Wish you were here.'"

DRY WORKERS HEAR INSPIRING ADDRESS; PLAN INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN FOR WRIGHT ACT

Armed with undisputable legal facts regarding both the state and national liquor control and prohibitory laws, members of the Santa Ana Board of Strategy and their scores of enthusiastic workers today were completing the building of an organization that will give the true facts to every voter in Santa Ana in connection with the attempt to repeal the Wright act at the November election.

The facts were given to members of the board and a large group of workers at a meeting held last night in the Y. M. C. A. building by J. F. Burke.

The speaker traced the history of laws in the United States which dealt with the control and prohibition of the liquor traffic. He quoted a decision of the supreme court of the nation to prove that it was unlawful for any state to curtail the operations of state and local officers in enforcing the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act, a law which covers the entire United States and every state in the nation.

Such would be the result, he pointed out, if voters in this state voted to repeal the Wright act, which is merely a coordinating act with the national prohibition laws and which enables state and local officers to enforce the national law. If the Wright act is repealed, he declared, it would handcuff all police officers in the state in enforcing the law, and would give them no more responsibility in enforcing the law than the average citizen. He pictured vividly the conditions that would exist if the act were repealed.

Traces Law
After the speaker had left the hall, several of those present enthusiastically suggested that the address be given at mass meetings in the future.

Affording a background for his explanation of the legal angles involved, Burke traced the history of state laws in relation to national law.

"Under the Constitution of the United States," he declared, "we have the rule of states and of the federal government. All of those powers which are not granted to the federal government are reserved for the states, enabling the states to carry on their government work in the decades following the adoption of the Constitution.

"One of the things left in the power of the states is the police power. In this manner the federal government recognized that the state must help the federal government because the state is part of the government. Going back to the preamble of the Constitution, it is found that the duty of the states is to help carry out the purposes of the Constitution itself.

"Police powers were always reserved for the states. There is reason for this. The state government is closer to the people, it is a matter of personality. The matters that have to be dealt with by the police concern misdemeanors and crimes. "There is considerable difference in the law in California and that of Eastern states. The reason can be found in the history of the state. One of the things the police power deals with is the manufacture, exportation and importation of alcoholic beverages. For 5000 years people have had the same problem before them. In this country we have addressed ourselves to the problem for 100 years. We began with the personal equation and attempted to deal with the personal desire for drink. Moral suasion was tried.

Local Effects
"The next step was to turn the problem over to the townships and cities and towns. Towns and communities that tried to keep themselves sober found their purpose defeated by the liquor that flowed in to them from other places. "Liquor control was finally incorporated into counties but the same condition existed. Liquor flowed from wet counties into dry counties.

"The program was then enlarged to encompass the state but the same difficulties prevailed. There existed no power to prohibit transportation of liquor from one state to another. For some years it was agitated through the country to obtain a suitable law to prevent liquor from becoming a part of commerce traffic between states.

"Even in a dry state there was no law to prevent liquor from being shipped through the dry state and stopping in transit. So liquor supposedly consigned to a wet state could not be prevented from being stopped in a dry state. And probably not all the liquor consigned to the wet state reached it.

"Experimental legislation to the purpose of preventing this condition worked to no avail. All through the process there were those that sold liquor and violated every law on the statute books, no matter what it was.

"Before landing in America, the Pilgrims on the Mayflower inaugurated the majority rule. Men dealing in liquor have never paid any attention to this law, which has been the most fundamental law in the nation—majority rule.

National Government
"Finally, a step further was taken to call upon the national government to pass a prohibitory liquor law. Up until that time the federal government had no power to do this, to pass any kind of a prohibitory law. It was proposed finally that dry territories could protect their people with a law for prohibition.

"So the Eighteenth amendment was drawn and provided exactly, in all respects, for its adoption just as all other amendments in the constitution were adopted. I had the honor of being one of the men who drew up that amendment, which was copied from every other amendment.

"The law turned over to the national government, not complete power, but enough power so that state and federal government could have concurrent powers. The law forbade the sale, manufacture, importation and exportation of liquor legally.

"With the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment another act was passed in complete harmony with it—the Volstead act. In complete harmony with these federal laws, the Wright act was introduced and passed in the California legislature, giving the state concurrent powers of enforcement with harmony in relation to the national prohibitory laws.

"The rest of the states came to the aid of California as California aided the rest of the states. If California tried to repeal the Wright act, it would take those concurrent powers away from the state, and according to decision of the supreme court, this could not be done. No legislature or legislative body has the way to public health and morals. The people themselves cannot do it.

"The only thing it would do if the Wright act were repealed is to tell other states that California does not want to protect its people or do its part in protecting its drinking people from the exploiters.

Liquor Traffic Destroyed
"Here we are a part of the federal government and we propose to leave its jurisdiction. We do not change any legal status by the vote this fall. It is the Eighteenth amendment we were voting on there might be some

ATTORNEYS ASK HUGE FEES IN PARK ACTION

Claims totaling $62,750 for legal fees allegedly due five law firms for services rendered defendants in the recent condemnation suits in connection with the plan to create a state park at Huntington Beach, were aired yesterday in superior court here before Superior Judge Leon R. Yankwich of Los Angeles.

Judge Yankwich was called into the case when all the Orange county jurists were disqualified as taxpayers in this county. The case was ordered submitted on briefs.

The action had its beginning when the state started proceedings to create a state park at the beach city. Action was started through the state park commission to condemn beach acreage necessary for the park. The plan later was dropped and attorneys for defendants in the condemnation suits filed their claims with the state for payment. The state was represented at yesterday's hearing by Attorney General U. S. Webb and Deputy Attorney General Neil Cunningham.

The Santa Ana law firm of West and McKinney representing Col. S. H. Finley in the condemnation suit presented a claim for $27,500; the firms of Fogel and Beeman, and Hill, Morgan and Bledsoe, jointly representing A. G. Thorpe, Hannah D. Harris and others presented claims totaling $37,500; Lawler and Degner, Standard Oil company attorneys are demanding $1500; Mott, Vallee and Grant, representing the Citizens' Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles and others, has a claim in for $6500; and James Donovan, attorney for the Pacific Seaside Home is demanding $1000.

The state through Attorney General Webb and his aide Cunningham, is resisting payment of the fees demanded on the grounds that they are excessive. Other attorneys headed by H. W. O'Melvaney testified as to what they considered equitable charges for the services rendered by the defense attorneys.

'WET VS. DRY' IS PRESENTED IN BREA

BREA, Sept. 27.—The Christian church was well filled for the "Wet vs. Dry" presentation by Messrs. Hall and Sumner Sunday. Mrs. Lillian Barton led in singing temperance songs, with Miss Opal Estes at the piano. The Rev. Joseph Grey presided at the meeting in absence of the pastor, the Rev. Wesley Runyan, and the Rev. Donald F. Gaylord offered prayer.

Start Work On Brea Residence

BREA, Sept. 27.—John C. Blystone, Brea contractor, has started work on a $4500 stucco house of six rooms for R. L. Scott on Center avenue. The ranch residence is expected to be completed within 90 days and the family expects to eat Christmas dinner in the new home.

The grammar school board met Monday and decided to elect Horace Chansler to teach the fourth grade in the Laurel school.

Miss Gwendolyn Griffin, of Los Angeles, passed the week end with Mrs. Rosalie Williams, of Brea.

FIRST LADY AIDS NEEDY

When Red Cross headquarters in Washington, D. C., undertook the task of gathering clothing for the nation's unemployed, one of the first to sit down at the sewing machine and help was Mrs. Herbert Hoover, here shown taking that stitch in time which may save some needy woman. With her are Mrs. P. J. Altizer and Mrs. J. H. Fishback, chairman of production for the Red Cross.

HAPPENINGS OF LONG AGO RECALLED IN COPIES OF EARLY S. A. NEWSPAPERS

Embodying the essence of historical happenings in Santa Ana, C. W. Hannah, 611 North Parton, retired, has a collection of early newspapers of this city which recall many interesting events of days that have passed. Hannah was among the first "printer's devils" to ink a paper in Santa Ana and has kept some of the old papers as keepsakes.

In the issue of the Evening Blade, of September 19, 1888, is a story of the intention of horticultural officials to conduct a series of experiments which were to determine what disease was ravaging the vineyards around Anaheim, Tustin and Orange.

"This disease," the article read, "has been noticed for about a year. The vines shrivel and die and no effective remedy has been found. Next spring it is proposed to have an experimental vineyard plot set out in the worst infected districts, and in the meantime an investigation will be made."

The same issue carries a front page story of the marriage of Hannah to Miss Susie Mauslby.

Ads Interesting
All of the papers possessed by Hannah carry advertising on the front page. The advertisements range in nature from patent medicines to coffin and "burial goods" advertisements. The funeral advertisement contained an imposing picture of a hearse drawn by horses, with silk-hatted gentlemen in attendance.

"Tent No. 2, Division of California Daughters of Veterans was organized Saturday night in G. A. R. hall, and a Division of Sons of Veterans will be organized soon in this city," a notice in the Daily Evening Blade on December 31, 1895, declared. Advertisements of bicycles and carriages, as well as numerous patent medicines, were prevalent in the issue.

An issue of the Santa Ana Standard, published by D. M. Baker, of January 28, 1887, contained an interesting article on an invention by Michael Cahill, M. D., of Santa Ana, which was claimed to be able to produce artificial rain by the use of electricity in condensing the moisture in the upper air levels.

"I expect to see the sagebrush deserts of Nebraska and Nevada under cultivation and affording pasturage for thousands of cattle in a few years," Dr. Cahill was quoted as saying, "should the government adopt my patent. By its use there need not be an acre of waste land on the whole continent."

Recalls Murder Case
The same paper contained an account of "an awful murder" in Garden Grove, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hitchcock, ranchers, were murdered by a young German who sought to obtain their property.

Front page poetry was featured in the issue of the Santa Ana Herald, published by A. Waite, in the September 24, 1881 issue, as well as advertising, jokes, editorials and news items. The same issue contained an account of the death on the previous Monday of President James A. Garfield, after he had been shot down by an assassin.

In an issue of the Santa Ana Daily Herald on April 1, 1902, an entire section is devoted to pictures and publicity on Santa Ana and Orange county. The edition commemorated the 25th anniversary of the newspaper. A picture of the new courthouse was printed on the first page of the second section. The courthouse is the one that is still the seat of the county government.

PLAN EVENING MEETINGS FOR
B. & P. W. CLUB

Hoping for an increased membership of other business women, especially teachers, members of Santa Ana Business and Professional Women's club yesterday voted to substitute dinner meetings on the first and third Monday evenings of each month, for the weekly luncheons which heretofore have been the custom. The new plan will go into effect Monday, October 3, and will continue for three months, when if it proves practicable, it will be adopted permanently.

Mrs. Marie Fowler presided at yesterday's meeting in Ketter's gold room, but presented Mrs. Mabel Rockwell Webster as program chairman, and she in turn introduced the two artists of the day's program, George Evans, violinist, and Miss Adelaide Proctor of Orange, his accompanist. Opening with "Cannonetta" by Tachakowsky, the soloist showed a pleasing contrast in his second selection, the Wilhelm transcription of Schubert's "Ave Maria." He explained afterwards, that the Wilhelm transcription has a piano accompaniment that makes it an unusually fine selection, heightening the majesty and beauty of the violin part.

Responding to the desire of his audience for more, the violinist selected Drigo's "Valse Bluette" (Leopold Auer's transcription) for his final number, investing it with a lyrical charm and daintiness that delighted his audience.

Miss Proctor is president of the Orange B. & P. W. club.

Mrs. Marshall Northcross jr. talked briefly on some of her experiences at the convention in Yosemite National park, having returned only a few days ago following a more extended northern trip after the close of the convention sessions.

Next Monday night's meeting was announced as a 6:30 o'clock dinner in Ketter's cafe with bridge to follow. Mrs. Loyal K. King and her October committee will arrange details, and have asked for reservations from those who plan to be present.

Armory Razed
At Wintersburg

WINTERSBURG, Sept. 27.—The armory building located on Wintersburg boulevard since 1899 and which has served a number of purposes in its time as the largest building in this section, has been razed and the lumber is now being sold off. The majority of the materials is being hauled to Costa Mesa, where H. W. Wright, who purchased the building from a bank, is to erect a number of small houses from it.

S. H. Finley of Santa Ana erected the building, leasing it to the government which made it the official home of company H. The building became a favorite for dances and a skating rink was operated for several seasons. Four merchants, W. S. Harris, E. I. Bradbury, the Rev. R. R. Raymond and in later years, K. Tashima, Japanese merchant, occupied the building, which also had roomy living quarters attached.

P. T. A. ARRANGES
SCHOOL RECEPTION

COSTA MESA, Sept. 27.—A reception to the faculty of the local grammar schools will be given this evening at the Main school, by the Mesa P. T. A. The first P. T. A. meeting of the year will be combined with the reception. Mrs. O. L. Northrup has arranged a program. All friends of the school are urged to be present.

O. E. S. Deputy At Brea Gathering

BREA, Sept. 27.—Advance night was observed at the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Stars Friday, with the deputy grand matron, Mrs. Clara Holland, as guest of honor. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown were hosts and served refreshments in the dining hall after the meeting.

TIDELANDS OIL DRILLING BALLOT PROPOSAL OPPOSED
BY SAVE-THE-BEACHES GROUP

Proposition No. 11 on the November ballot, which would grant tidelands to the City of Huntington Beach, with the right to drill the beach for oil, which the city proposes to permit, is to be opposed to the limit by the Southern California Save-the-Beaches League, organized some time ago, which met at San Clemente yesterday.

The meeting yesterday was attended by 20 representatives from various Southern California beach communities, and President Ole Hanson also had numerous letters and proxies from others, representing cities all the way between Santa Barbara and San Diego, all being in opposition to the tire-land proposition.

Hanson himself took the floor, while Willis Warner of Huntington Beach was in the chair temporarily, and said that he was unalterably opposed to the measure, particularly as it would validate a lease entered into between the city council and a private corporation, which was given without competitive bids, and also because it was proposed to drill on a strip of the Coast highway in Huntington Beach.

Hear Proponents
Two factions of Huntington Beach citizens, one for and the other against the proposition, attended the meeting. The pros, Mrs. Stella R. White, Frank Morris and W. N. Cookerly, representing the Huntington Beach improvement association, stated that already the Standard Oil company had 15 oil wells on the beach there and the measure would only give the city of Huntington Beach the right to do what that company was already doing and could not possibly damage the beach any more than the present drilling.

They also pointed out that the lease entered into would, if validated by a favorable vote of the people of the state in November, give the state 81.3 per cent of the royalties and the city an equal amount, which would be considerable, as they stated the Standard had taken $7,000,000 worth of oil from its wells on the beach in the last six years, and that it would aid unemployment in Huntington Beach, and provide money to develop and improve other parts of the beach there, completing a program already begun but discontinued owing to lack of funds.

Point To City Vote
During the discussion it was stated that Huntington Beach citizens had voted 885 to 698 against a state-wide proposition last May which would have permitted drilling.

Arrange Dinner
In Brea Church

BREA, Sept. 27.—A fellowship pot luck dinner will be served Wednesday at the Brea Congregational church at 8:15 o'clock. Each family is expected to bring another family and there will be a short program at the table.

At 7:30 o'clock the pastor will review a current book of interest. Thursday at 7:45 there will be a social and get-together of the adult class in church.

October 2 there will be rally day with special program at both services.

The Woman's Missionary society will meet with Mrs. A. A. Voorhees at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Wednesday. Mrs. R. H. Spensley is president.

Y. W. Fall Membership Dinner Planned for Thursday Night

Thursday evening has been set as the date for the annual fall worship service and dinner of the Y. W. C. A. membership. The worship service will be held in the little chapel of the First Methodist church at 5:45 o'clock and will be followed by dinner in the church dining room. Miss Elaine Richards and Florine Pollock have been secured to furnish the music for the affair.

Both service and dinner are being planned by the membership committee of the association, composed of Mrs. C. E. Downey, Mrs. C. C. Downing, Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. M. L. Keeler, Miss Marie Lusk, Mrs. W. A. Atkinson, Mrs. Minnie Fields, Mrs. W. W. Hoy and Mrs. P. F. Schrock.

The public is cordially invited to attend and prospective guests are asked to phone reservations to the Y. W. C. A. today.

Miss Emily Wiley of Los Angeles is to be the dinner speaker, on the subject "The Place of a Character Building Agency in the Social Work Program of a Community."

Sunday Afternoon Tea Honors Guests of Sorority

A formal tea Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in the home of Miss Doris Rohrbacher, 2414 North Park boulevard, served as a charming fall affair with which members of Sigma Theta sorority complimented a group of guests.

In the receiving line were Miss Rohrbacher's mother, Mrs. William Rohrbacher, Miss Marguerite Lentz, Miss Helen Spangler, Miss Ruth Owens and Miss Martha Wallingford.

The rich notes of autumn were emphasized in the lovely formal frocks worn by the girls as well as by the decorative scheme in evidence throughout the rooms of the home. Zinnias and other flowers formed a background for the beautifully appointed tea table, centered with pink roses in a silver bowl and lighted with tall tapers in silver candelabra. Miss Doris Rohrbacher and Miss Loretta Spangler presided at the tea and coffee urns.

Special guests of the sorority were the Misses Eleanor Crook, shank, Alene Buck, Marjorie Burns, Marguerite Harlan, Dora Tedford, Rachel Lamb, Virginia Taylor, Florence Brownridge, Georgina Irwin, Harriet Rutan, Edna Laughlin, Pansy Oliphant, Dorothy Spicer, Mary Demaris of Santa Ana; Elizabeth Palmer, and Emma Wetlin of Orange; Priscilla Adams, Virginia Chesley and Dorothy Chesley of Fullerton.

Hostesses included the Misses Marguerite Lentz, Ruth Owens, Helen Spangler, Loretta Spangler, Frances Bowman, Mary Jean Silver, Louise Rurup, Barbara Rurup, Betty Hewitt, Martha Wallingford, Doris Rohrbacher, Bernice Rathbun, Dorothy Gowdy, Marcia Huber, Clara Kate Owens, Betty Stauffer, Eleanor Bairdson, Helen Stauffer and Mesdames Wilma Silver Smith and Joseph Irwin.

Mrs. Sophia Bechen of Los Angeles spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Dora Jasper, 1391 South Van Ness avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Metzgar, 2008 West Fifth street, have been enjoying a two weeks' visit from their son, J. Steele Metzgar, who returned to his business in Los Angeles yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eyerly of 501 South Van Ness avenue welcomed the arrival late last week of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Deane S. Eyerly of Detroit. Mr. Eyerly had not visited Santa Ana for six years. A musician, specializing in the slide trombone, Mr. Eyerly has been associated with the Broadway Collegians for some period, making appearances with the orchestra in New York and in Toronto, Can., and in Florida, during the winters. The eastern visitors are reported strongly impressed by California and may make this state their future home.

First Lieutenant John Gamber, 60th Coast Artillery, Fort McClellan, Alabama, with Mrs. Gamber and their children, were guests late last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krook, 1561 West Fifth street. Lieutenant Gamber is a nephew of Mr. Krook.

Miss Dorothy Rees of Pomona and Miss Leona Martinez of Anaheim spent Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Krook in their West Fifth street home.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cochran who have returned from a honeymoon cruise of nearly three weeks along the coast of California as guests of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Smith of Los Angeles, owners of the yacht, "Adore," plan to drive north in a few days to Sacramento. There Mr. Cochran will resume his position as private secretary to Governor Rolph. The couple will make their future home in the state capital. Mrs. Cochran was Miss Evelyn Farnsworth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth of 2219 North Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dooley and Mrs. Loretta Lampton of Norwalk were week end guests in the Earl Lepper home, 2208 Maple avenue.

Miss Corinne Ryan of Denver, Colo., is a guest in the home of Miss Mabel Larrick, 801 North Syracuse street. She will leave Thursday for Santa Monica, where she will visit with relatives. She expects to leave for home within the next several days, and will make the trip to Denver in company with Mrs. George Sanderson of Santa Monica and Mrs. Etta Williams of Denver. Miss Larrick recently returned from a trip east, during which she visited with Miss Ryan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Ryan in Denver. Miss Ryan left for California just as Miss Larrick arrived in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren and daughter Mildred Jean of Inglewood spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Warren, 814 North Parton street. Mr. Warren is a son of the T. L. Warrens.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McIntosh of 1115 North Broadway departed Saturday morning by motor for Nebraska and the midwest. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh were to visit various cities in Nebraska and expected to be gone several weeks.

Among Santa Anans attending the final matches of the Pacific Southwest Tennis tournament at the Los Angeles Tennis club this week end were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilmore Ward, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carson Smith, J. A. Cranston, O. S. Johnston, Frank Bettis, Randolph Bell and Miss Thelma Patton.

Miss Betty Ferguson has returned to her home in Berkeley after a week-end visit in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Andrews Jr., 1119 North Olive street.

Miss Eleanor Crill, daughter of Jack Crill, Palm avenue, who is attending Whittier college, spent the week end in her home.

Junior Music Students Investigate Origin Of Note System

Junior Music club members learned interesting details concerning the inventing of the present system of music note writing when their organization held its bi-weekly meeting in the studio of their sponsor, Mrs. Marie Stanton Eyerly, 501 South Van Ness avenue, this past week end. The investigation into the source of the system occupied the club's customary study period, while entertainment, volunteered by several of the group, filled the remaining hours.

With Ralph Tiffin in the role of president, officer, various performers were called upon for a program of solos and readings in which all of the members acquitted themselves creditably.

First of these entertainers was Anita Smith, whose piano selection was "Goldfinches." Her number was followed by another piano choice, "The Merry Sleighing Party," played by Donna Baker. A musical reading, "There Little Girl, Don't Cry," offered by Ruth Hawley, and a final piano composition, "Song of the Mermaids," rounded out the program.

Members of the club indulged in a musical game before Mrs. Eyerly produced refreshments and passed them among her young guests.

Arrangements were made to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Eyerly, and Billy Guiley was assigned presiding responsibilities for that occasion.

Travel Experiences in Far Distant Lands Are Recalled

With A. L. Flude of Pasadena as their courier and guide, Ebell women yesterday were given a thrilling 4,000 mile journey into far lands, with the result that many of their pre-conceived ideas of Siberia were upset, and others both of Siberia and of the Orient, were verified.

"Vladivostok to Peking" provided the lecturer with his theme, and in presenting it, he called upon a store of personal experiences gained during the World War when he volunteered for welfare service. Perhaps the most marked reversal of opinions on the part of his audience, was that regarding the Siberian climate, and according to Flude's own admission, he too was surprised to find that Vladivostok was a house of bloom upon his arrival in the summer season. Nor were these all the flowers of the temperate zone, for he described great fields of lilies of the valley, and regions where rare orchids were as common as our plain little field daisy.

Russian Autocracy Although he avoided political matters, he told some experiences which tended to show the reason for the rise of Bolshevism, although he pointed out that it was rather a general rebellion of the Russians against autocracy than any groundless belief in Bolshevist principles. Also he was a note of optimism regarding the future of the country for he felt that the Russians gradually would solve their problems.

In speaking of Vladivostok, he declared it to be one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world, and said that while the United States in general and New York City in particular so frequently had been termed the melting pot of nations, "it wasn't even a stew pan in comparison with Vladivostok." Stark cases of cruelty and bitter war that accompanied the war, were described graphically, including harrowing tales of cruelty to children, and the plaintive cries of little waifs as his party proceeded on the long journey on the Trans-Siberian railway. These children would beg piteously for a kopeck to buy food, and he explained that at that time it took 124 kopecks to equal the value of one of our American pennies.

The Oriental charm and mystery of Peking offered contrast to Siberia, and the lecturer told of the wealth of Manchuria, "enriched by the prevailing winds of six months of the year, blowing the surface soil from Siberia, later to be washed down by the rains of that season to form fruitful earth for Manchuria."

Korea, he declared to be infinitely better off under Japanese rule than at any other period of its history. While discussing China, he offered from time to time, translations of some of the more beautiful poems of the famous writers including Ning To Po. While expressing appreciation for the fine qualities of the Chinese, he declared that China would never take her place among the nations of the world until she had absorbed the idea of service and the brotherhood of man.

That her hope lies in the nation's youth, was developed by an interesting interval of the program, when Ebell sons and daughters modeled the beautiful garments which Mr. Flude had brought from the Orient, including not only fine Mandarin coats, but the apparel of today's "Chinese flapper."

The showing of pictures, all of which he had taken while on the journey, and which had been enlarged and colored in Japan, brought the program to a close.

Club Hosts Observe Blue and Gold Theme

Bridge club members were guests at a delightful dinner party given Saturday night when Mr. and Mrs. Frank King were hosts at Ketter's. A blue and gold color scheme was observed in all appointments, with mari-golds and asters combined in pretty bouquets to carry out the theme in flowers.

Tallies distributed for card games following the dinner also were in blue and gold. Prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Cramer and Mrs. John Turton, who scored first and second high for women and Louis Bittle and E. W. Ashland, who won first and second high honors for men.

Club members and friends invited to the affair were Mesdames Charles Cramer, John Turton, Louis Bittle, E. W. Ashland, Earl Neer, Leland Ewbank, Philip LaLonde, Harry Brown, Leonard White, Wilbur Gill, and Mesdames Earl Lepper and Loretta Lampton and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. King.

Mr. and Mrs. Bittle will be hosts at the next meeting, Saturday evening, October 29.

School Children Given Farewell Dinner

Children of Paularino school shared in a friendly affair late last week when they gave a dinner to four of their schoolmates, Henrietta, Maudie and Edna VanderBilt, who are to leave soon for their future home in Virginia, and Durward Dady, who this week will go to Nebraska for a month's visit.

The children had planned a delicious dinner to which their principal, Mrs. Emerson, added chilled watermelon, and Mr. Blanchard, a patron and friend of the school, contributed ice cream.

Venison Dinner Marks Anniversaries of Two Couples

A delicious venison dinner, given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Austin Watts, in their home, 1626 East Chapman avenue in Orange, served to celebrate their ninth wedding anniversary as well as the same anniversary for Mr. Watts' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yost of Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Watts recently returned from Mount Thomas, where they spent two days and were fortunate in securing a three point deer. The dinner was served at an attractively-appointed table whose decorations included zinnias. A pretty wedding cake topped with nine large candles had been baked by Mrs. E. A. Steely.

Those present at the affair were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Watts and children, Laura and Margaret; Don Schnitzer, Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Steely, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Yost and son, Harold Lee of Long Beach; Mrs. Theora Wilson and children, Philip, Jean and Richard; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Steely of Orange; Mr. and Mrs. J. Gillingerwater, Nancy Beauchamp of Upland; and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Watts and son, Charles.

New Playhouse Serves As Birthday Party Setting

A delightful party given Saturday afternoon in celebration of little Miss Onolee Elliott's fifth birthday anniversary, served as a housewarming for a newly-completed playhouse which she had received as a gift from her parents was the scene of much of the afternoon's activity.

Her mother, Mrs. Dale H. Elliott, was hostess at the pleasant event, directing the variety of favorite games which the small guests played during the afternoon. These included drop the handkerchief, London bridge, etc. Fishing games, in which there were prizes for all, and cookie hunting contests proved to be of special interest. Much time was spent in playing with the many toys which Onolee had received for her natal day.

It was not until the refreshment hour that guests were permitted to inspect the model playhouse, with its pretty walls newly tinted in blue and white. Complete with cupboards, frilly blue and yellow curtains and other home-like accessories, the new home was thoroughly enjoyed by the little hostess and her guests. Many of the birthday gifts were things for the playhouse.

Refreshments were served in this setting, with a long table appointed for the occasion. A yellow and green motif was observed, with nut cups, tall tapers with frilled holders, napkins and other decorative details carrying out the chosen colors. The table was centered with a large birthday cake frosted in yellow and topped with glowing candles. Streamers arranged about the room completed the party atmosphere.

Onolee's guests included Ardith Robinson, Aleta Robinson, Betty Jean Drake, Cathryn Hildebrand, Jacquelin Cozad, Frances Becker, Edna Faith Oment of this city and Betty Jane Smith, formerly of this city but now of Pasadena, and Betty Jean Lacy of Huntington Beach.

Adults present were the little maid's two grandmothers, Mrs. Henry Winters and Mrs. Martha Elliott, and Mrs. J. P. Cozad, Mrs. Fred Drake, Mrs. E. L. Smith and Mrs. Starr Oment, and the hosts, Mrs. Elliott.

Informal Party Marks Arrival of Two Birthdays

Mrs. George Masin was hostess at an informal luncheon the past week when she entertained in her home, 1018 Orange avenue, honoring birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Dorte Kramer and Mrs. Muriel Masin, both of this city.

The delicious menu was served at a table prettily appointed in pink and white. Completing the birthday theme were two large cakes decorated in pink and white and topped with candles. There were gifts for the honored guests.

Those present were Mrs. Barker Woodward, Mrs. Louis Shipley, Mrs. N. James, Mrs. Earl Trueblood, Mrs. W. P. Plummer, Mrs. Muriel Masin and Mrs. Kramer and the hosts, Mrs. George Masin. Mrs. Muriel Masin's children, June Louise, Charles and Joan also were guests at the affair.

Twentieth Anniversary To Be Celebrated

Plans are being completed for the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Korean class of the United Presbyterian church, to take place Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the church. Dinner will be served and a program will follow.

Other prizes of suitable type went to winners of various succeeding games, and when contests reached a conclusion refreshments of pineapple ice, home-made cake, mints and coffee were served guests on individual trays.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Should anyone have beans still to can, here is an idea for seasoning the beans that I think decidedly worth while. It came from a reader who puts up her winter's supply.

"In canning string beans, if one places a strip of bacon on each side of the jar (two to a jar) the flavor is greatly improved."

Already several complaints have come to me that string beans are fermenting in the jars. This can be only the fault of poor tops or jar rings. I wonder if some of the beans were being cooked? Even the water bath method on top of the stove will damage rubbers for rubber can stand just so much heat and still function.

Cook the product in the jar, and then after re-sterilizing the tops and filling jars to overflowing, adjust the rubbers, fresh from a dip in boiling water, firmly screw on the tops, and stand jars on their heads until cold. If there are any leaks due to poor tops they will show up promptly, and the contents can be saved.

Polenta with Cheese

1 cup corn meal
2 cups milk
2 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 pound nippy cheese

While the two cups of water are coming to a rapid boil take the cold milk, cornmeal and salt, and mix together so that there are no lumps left. Stir into the boiling water and continue stirring until the mixture thickens. Set the kettle over boiling water and cook for an hour. When this cooking is finished add the grated cheese and turn into a shallow pan, moulding the polenta an inch deep. (Best if made a day before it is to be used). Cut the polenta in squares, dip in egg and crumbs and fry in plenty of hot fat. Serve with tomato sauce.

An easy way to make a good tomato sauce is to blend two tablespoons of butter, same of flour, and when bubbly add a small onion, grated or chopped. Cook for a few minutes, then for liquid use a can of tomato hot sauce and a cupful of hot water. Cook for 10 minutes over a quick fire.

The use of cornmeal mush is not confined to the Italians. It was a standard winter dish in my own childhood. Some of it was moulded with "head-cheese" to be used as a meat dish, cut in slices and fried in bacon fat. Some was just plain corn meal mush moulded in deep bread tins. It, too, was cut in slices—thin ones—and fried in butter. Served with real honest-to-goodness maple syrup this was a breakfast fit for a flock of gods! Combined with milk and offset by a fresh fruit, cornmeal has all the body building elements needed.

A 2-inch square of polenta with 2 spoonfuls of sauce has a calory value of 300.

NEIGHBORHOOD FAVORITES The current leaflet, is the result of a happy thought on my part in putting these fine contributed recipes into one group for all readers of the Mixing Bowl to share with me.

The leaflet is offered free of charge all week. You may have it by just writing me and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Announcements

Santa Ana Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, will open its club year in interesting fashion Saturday, October 1, when Mrs. E. G. Summers will place her summer home at Three Arches at the convenience of her sister members for a covered dish luncheon to be served at 12:30 o'clock. A committee will provide the meat, coffee, rolls and butter of the menu, and members are asked to include individual needs in table service with their surprise dishes. "What Every D.A.R. Should Know" will be the subject of the paper which Mrs. Robert Northcross will add to the after luncheon program. Members who want transportation or who will provide it for others are asked to telephone Mrs. Cotton Mathers, 688.

Saturday evening approximately 100 couple assembled at the Rio Hondo Country club for the fall dance and enjoyed a pleasant evening of dancing to the strains of a six-piece orchestra, brought from Los Angeles.

Fraternity chapters comprising the province and represented at Saturday's dance were those of Santa Ana, Laguna Beach, Fullerton and Whittier. Paul Beckman was assigned a post on the dance committee as a member of the local organization.

Church Societies

A variety of original games characterized the party held one evening late last week in the home of Mrs. L. D. Mercereau, 1506 West Fifth street, when Mrs. Mercereau entertained for the members of her Sunday school class of the Calvary church.

Guests had been requested to wear symbols which might be interpreted to represent some flower, and a guessing contest ensued as a result of these adornments. A bouquet of flowers was presented to the winner.

Other prizes of suitable type went to winners of various succeeding games, and when contests reached a conclusion refreshments of pineapple ice, home-made cake, mints and coffee were served guests on individual trays.

Committee members assisting Mrs. Mercereau in hostess capacities were Mesdames Mabel Osborn, chairman; Esther Van Hoy, Helen McClellan, Marie Garrett, Onalee Armstrong, Effie Highland, Dorothy Gibson, Muriel Mason; Miss Roxie Vaughn and Miss Florence Pilch.

Santa Ana Pair Stage Surprise Wedding In Yuma

Miss Betty Browning, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Browning of 726 South Birch street, and Cleland W. Harbaugh, 709 South Birch street, surprised Santa Ana friends late last week by traveling to Yuma, Ariz., to be married in the First Christian church of that city.

A musician of ability, the bridegroom, who has specialized in pipe organ, has acquired many friends in this community through his music and his radio programs. His parents reside in Washington. The new Mrs. Harbaugh will continue her studies at the Santa Ana junior college, her friends have learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Harbaugh are to make their new home at 515 Riverline avenue, Mr. Harbaugh having purchased a service station which he will operate at the corner of First and Flower streets.

Lodge Observes Silver Wedding Anniversary Of George Shippe

George Shippe, worthy patron of Santa Ana chapter Order of Eastern Star, and Mrs. Shippe, followed themselves the center of attention at the meeting of that organization in the Masonic temple last evening, word having spread among members of the Shippe wedding anniversary, recently observed.

Knowledge of the anniversary persuaded members to plan some suitable recognition of the wedding date, with the result that the two guests of honor were presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dean, with an informal reception ensuing.

In congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Shippe, members learned that the couple were married a quarter of a century ago in Placerville, Cal., and had resided thereafter for 15 years in the midwestern state before moving to California. Since their arrival in Santa Ana nine years ago this past summer, Mr. and Mrs. Shippe have occupied the home at 633 North Van Ness avenue, continuously.

Prominent in the affairs of the Eastern Star and White Shrine organizations, Mrs. Shippe has shared her interest in Masonic activities with her husband, whose affiliations include, in addition to the Eastern Star, the Scottish Rite and Scot bodies and the Shriners organization of St. Louis.

While lodge activities of Mr. and Mrs. Shippe did not permit any formal celebration of their silver wedding date, friends, learning of the anniversary, have been showering them daily with cards, flowers, and gifts of silver, the couple revealed.

Refreshments in the banquet room and bridge in the lounge brought last evening's assembly to a close after prizes at the latter had been awarded Mrs. Achel Hardy and Mrs. Laura Kesemann, high and low among women; and Harvey Dimmitt and W. D. Barnard, holding corresponding tallies among men.

Initiation will follow a pot luck supper scheduled for 6:30 o'clock, at the next meeting on October 10, it was announced.

Thanksgiving Dance Is Scheduled

With a successful fall sports dance behind them, members of Beta Province of Phi Sigma fraternity are making preparatory arrangements for the annual Thanksgiving social feature, a second dance, which takes place each year on the night before Thanksgiving. This season the affair is scheduled for Wednesday, November 23, although no place has been selected.

Saturday evening approximately 100 couple assembled at the Rio Hondo Country club for the fall dance and enjoyed a pleasant evening of dancing to the strains of a six-piece orchestra, brought from Los Angeles.

Fraternity chapters comprising the province and represented at Saturday's dance were those of Santa Ana, Laguna Beach, Fullerton and Whittier. Paul Beckman was assigned a post on the dance committee as a member of the local organization.

Sunset Group Enjoys Meeting in West Home

A group of women whose associations began in church work, were guests at an informal afternoon held recently in the L. A. West home, 2117 Victoria drive, with Mrs. E. W. Hume as hostess. The women are members of a Sunset circle which had not met for three years, but which was organized by Mrs. Joseph Thacker of Orange.

The women spent the afternoon telling of their early work in the church. Lessons on the Scripture were conducted by Mrs. Thacker.

Concluding the afternoon, refreshments of ice-cream and cookies were served.

Those present were Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. E. W. Hume, Mrs. Thacker, Mrs. Mary Toney, Mrs. L. Darby, Miss Griffith, Mrs. L. Wiseman, Mrs. Jennie Smith, Mrs. Wardlaw, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. West.

Mrs. Jennie Fay and Mr. Thacker transported the guests to and from the affair.

Game of 500 Provides Entertainment for Wakefield Guests

A small group of guests enjoyed a hospitable evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monte Wakefield last night when the latter were hosts at a 500 party in their residence at 2907 Orange avenue.

An attractive feature of the hospitality was the color scheme selected by the hosts, old rose and yellow predominating in all appointments.

Card play at an end, guests were served a midnight supper upon the small tables, which had been cleared of card paraphernalia for that purpose.

Coincidental with the serving of refreshments came the presentation of prizes, with appropriate rewards going to Mrs. M. M. Kauffman, high woman scorer; and Ralph Tathwell, who held the equivalent score among gentlemen contestants. Mrs. Percy Woodman took the consolation award.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Woodman, Mr. and Mrs. W. McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tathwell, Mrs. Alice Garlick, Mrs. M. M. Kauffman and Miss Wilma Garlick.

Dean Baxter Tells Value Of Character Training

FALL TRAINING SCHOOL OPENS WITH BANQUET

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—With Bruce Baxter, dean of the school of religious education at the University of Southern California, as the speaker, the annual banquet for religious education workers was held last night in the First Methodist church, marking the opening of the Fall Leadership Training school. For six weeks, the school will hold sessions each Monday night.

Largely attended by workers from almost every church in Orange, the banquet took place following departmental conferences for Sunday school leaders and church workers. These were held from 4 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dr. Baxter spoke briefly, stating that more emphasis should be put on character building. There has never been a time when spiritual training is more needed than now, he continued. The church should not be treated as a mere convenience, but as a center of obligation and responsibility which should be sought by everyone. Not only should people get into the church, but the church should get into the people, the speaker said.

Continuing, he said that since the depression is world wide, there is opportunity for all to benefit. This is the church's greatest opportunity, for as in other days of depression the first hope may come from the church, he said. Man may not have so much to live on right at present, but through adversity he may learn that he has much to live for. Dr. Baxter brought out.

As the only things man possesses are the things he has given away, the worthwhile life is spent in radiation, not absorption. Man can radiate helplessness through the church. People who can be of service in any department should do so, never relying on substitutes. There is no successful substitute for self, he said.

The banquet program included a skit, "The Advertisement," written by Mrs. W. M. Whitney, of East Orange. Members of the cast were Mrs. Horace Newman, Miss Mabel Culter, Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. Charles Harper, Miss Lula Thornberg, Miss Thelma Dugan, Miss Rosalie Wagers, Mrs. L. L. Williams, Mrs. Earl Smith, Kenneth Stowell and Llewellyn Williams.

A quartet, composed of Mrs. Leon Dees, Harold Gilton and Mrs. and Mrs. Percy Green gave songs, with Mrs. Raymond Warren accompanying. Mrs. Warren also was at the piano for community singing, led by Mrs. A. Haven Smith.

Raymond Warren was toastmaster. The Rev. L. V. Lucas, pastor of the First Methodist church, introduced the speaker.

R. C. Patton, president of the Orange Community Council of Religious Education, Mrs. Percy Green, Mrs. Earl Smith and Mrs. Rose Harlan were in charge of arrangements for the conference and the banquet.

Mr. Patton presided over the meeting, announcing that certificates are to be awarded those who complete successfully the work offered in the courses for the training school. He introduced the leaders of the courses.

Study Group Listed
The study group offered are "The Principles of Teaching," Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, teacher; "Beginner's Materials and Methods," Mrs. A. C. Bray, of Fullerton Methodist church, teacher; "Junior Materials and Methods," Miss Minnie Morse, director of religious education at Fullerton Presbyterian church; George Gleason, secretary of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., "Adult Materials and Methods." The adult class has never before been offered at the school and it was announced that adult teachers as well as parents are to be enrolled in this group. J. B. Wilbur, secretary of the council, was registrar.

Mrs. Earl Morris, a former national and district officer of the P.-T. A., will talk at the West Orange meeting. The remainder of the afternoon will be spent socially.

The Maple association will have a reception for the teachers. During the business session, plans for the year's work are to be outlined. Tea will be served at the conclusion of the meeting.

New officers of the Maple association who will take charge at the meeting include Mrs. Kenneth King, president; Mrs. E. G. Smith, vice president; Mrs. George H. Franzen, secretary; Mrs. T. H. Elljah, treasurer; Mrs. C. E. Wood, parliamentarian; Mrs. E. D. Stanley, historian; Mrs. C. E. Short, auditor.

New officers of the West Orange organization include Mrs. C. H. Adams, president; Mrs. Finley Roy, vice president; Mrs. William Faerber, secretary; Mrs. Ray Bradford, treasurer; Mrs. C. C. Hatch, parliamentarian, and Mrs. G. C. Bradford, historian.

Hold Funeral Of William A. Lewis

ORANGE, Sept. 27.—Funeral services were held yesterday for William A. Lewis, 58, who passed away at his home, 135 North Olive street, Saturday afternoon. The services were held at the Holy Family Catholic church and were conducted by the Rev. Father E. J. Riordan and interment was made in the Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

Mr. Lewis had been a resident of Orange for the past three years and previous to that time had lived at Los Alamitos for many years. He was the proprietor of the Olive hotel. A native of Ohio, Mr. Lewis came to California from Houston, Tex., where he was a wholesale merchant.

Surviving Mr. Lewis are his widow, Mrs. Catherine Reagen Lewis; his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Lewis, of Hillsmore, Ohio; two sons, William A. Lewis Jr., of Fort Worth, Tex.; and James N. Lewis, of Orange.

Palbearers were H. A. Condra, of Los Alamitos; C. Ines, M. J. Tillery and Harry Laurie, Frank Beorchard, of Santa Ana, and James Heaston, of Huntington Beach.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The kittens finished with their meal of milk and they all seemed to feel real good. They stretched out on the ground to take a little nap.

The zoo man, when they licked their paws, explained that they did that because they liked to be real clean. Then Scouty held one on his lap.

When he began to stroke its fur, he said, "Gee, listen to it purr. That means the kitten likes me. See! It wants to cuddle tight."

The bunch then had to laugh at it 'cause it meowed a little bit. It's going to sleep," said Windy. "That is how it says good night."

doubt that sleep will do us lots of good, so good night, everyone."

The others flopped right by his side. "Hey, wake me early," Duncy cried, "I hate to waste time sleeping, 'cause we're having lots of fun."

Soon snoring came from all around. It seemed that it would shake the ground. At break of day we Duncy woke, as frisky as could be.

He eyed the others with a smile and said, "I'll let them sleep a while." And then he walked around the zoo to see what he could see.

A cage of animals soon was found and Duncy stopped and looked around. I'll bet they'd like to run, thought he. 'Twould please them all, no doubt.

And when he found the small cage door, he pulled it once and then once more. Up in the air it went and all the animals rushed out.

School Teachers Are Honor Guests At Reception

PROGRAM HELD BY CITIZENS IN BREA CHURCH

BREA, Sept. 27.—A reception to Brea teachers was held in the Congregational church last night under the auspices of the Ministerial union, with the church filled with interested citizens. The Rev. Joseph Grey, pastor of the church, presided.

The program was opened by community singing led by Robert Williams, followed by words of welcome from each of the pastors, more congregational singing and readings by Mrs. Lena Russell of the Brea Christian church, who gave "Go Away Betty Miller," "Hullo, Miss Brown," "The Story of the Absent Minded Professor," and a poem, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Curtis at the organ. A piano solo was given by Mrs. Curtis. Following the program all adjourned to the social hall for games conducted by Rev. J. Wesley Runyan of the Christian church.

Miss Judith Smith was chairman of the reception committee, assisted by Mesdames Perry Bales, Arthur Sullivan, J. M. Burquest, T. F. Wallace, Mildred Reisanger, Lillian Barton, R. W. Phelps, T. E. Moore and Miss Opan Estes. Mrs. A. B. Bowie, chairman of the program committee, assisted by Mrs. Frank Schwartz and Mrs. Donald Gaylord; Mrs. F. W. Bergman, chairman of the decoration committee, assisted by Mrs. William Churchill and Mrs. Lillian Barton; Mrs. O. S. Close, chairman of refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. L. A. Sayles, Jessie Negley and Mrs. Rosalie Williams.

HARRIET VILAS, L. THOMAS MARRY

LA HABRA, Sept. 27.—Lovely in its simplicity was the wedding of Miss Harriet Vilas, to Leslie Thomas, at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Saturday evening.

Miss Vilas, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Vilas, of Canoga Park, was gown in white satin, lace trimmed and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. D. O. Gschwind, as matron of honor, who wore pale blue net and carried pink rosebuds. Three-year-old Vilas Marie Gschwind, a niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The new Mrs. Thomas is well known in La Habra, having lived here for several years at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Randall, during which time she was a nurse in the dental office of Dr. V. L. Morrie. She was a student of the Fullerton Junior college prior to coming to La Habra, at which time she made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Blair, former La Habrans.

Mr. Thomas is the son of Mrs. Zaida Thomas, of Placentia, and is at present employed by a construction company near Ventura. They will make their home in Ventura.

ADKINSON TALKS ON TAX AMENDMENT

COSTA MESA, Sept. 27.—At their regular meeting in Greener's hall last night, members of the chamber of commerce heard Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent, explain the proposed property tax reduction and equalization amendment that is to be submitted to the people on the November ballot. Following the talk, a general discussion of the proposition was held.

A motion was made and carried that the chamber of commerce cooperate with the local American Legion post in the Fiesta del Oro program that is being sponsored by the Legion, to be put on at the Derby ranch here at an early date. The chamber president, Leroy P. Anderson, presided at the meeting.

CAR STOLEN AT CORONA DEL MAR

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 27.—Helen Sanbon, of Los Angeles, reported to the police department Sunday night that while visiting friends in Corona Del Mar her sedan was stolen. Two dollars in cash and a kodak in a leather case were in the car when it was taken.

Accessories, including wind-up, a gear shift ball, a rear vision mirror and a French top were taken from an automobile belonging to Stanley Dyckman, of Yorba Linda, as the car stood parked on Central avenue near Adams street last night, according to a report made to police headquarters by Dyckman.

Election Of Yorba Linda O. E. S. Oct. 4

YORBA LINDA, Sept. 27.—On October 4 members of the Order of the Eastern Star will open their regular meeting with a pot luck supper at the Masonic hall. Regular order of business will be taken up following the dinner. Officers of the lodge will be elected November 1.

Many members plan to attend the past matrons' and patrons' night affair at Santa Ana next Friday.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SESSION OF LEGION GROUP

BUENA PARK, Sept. 27.—An invitation to members of the local Legion auxiliary to attend the installation of 40 and 8 officers at Huntington Beach, October 16 was read at the regular meeting of the local unit at the regular meeting in the Legion Hall Monday evening.

Mrs. Kate Thompson, president, gave a report on a visit made to the Capitran unit recently in company with Mrs. Ida Ramirez. Mrs. Audrey Parker gave a report on the meeting of the county council held in Tustin and announced the district meeting and school of instruction to be held in Pacific hall in Los Angeles October 16. The next county council meeting will be held in Seal Beach October 11, when officers will be elected.

Miss Ida Ramirez was elected chaplain of the local unit. Mrs. Kate Thompson appointed the following chairmen of committees: Mrs. Ida Ramirez, child welfare; Mrs. Winifred Sopha, disaster and relief; Mrs. Audrey Parker, music, radio and publicity; Mrs. Fred McKenzie, community service and hospitalization.

Plans were made for entertaining the Legion county council October 14. Mrs. Ida Ramirez, Mrs. Viola Cowan and Mrs. I. D. Jaynes were appointed to serve on committees planning the menu. Plans were made to hold a pot luck supper with the Legion at the second meeting in October. Mrs. Viola Cowan, Mrs. Winifred Sopha and Mrs. Olga Graham, who comprise the auditing committee, were instructed to audit the books before the next regular meeting of the unit.

HOLD TRYOUTS FOR FULLERTON TEAMS

FULLERTON, Sept. 27.—Girls' basketball and the girls' swimming team tryouts were held at the gym Monday. Mrs. Ruth Scott is coaching basketball and Miss Flannetta Rhead the swimming teams.

Elimination tryouts are now being held for the junior college A Capella choir which is to be limited again this year to 60 members. The leader, Benjamin Edwards, organized the choir last year and it was accounted one of the choice symphony groups of the Southland. Edwards has composed a new choir number, "The Good Shepherd," to fit the poem of that name.

Harold Keene will be host to the Night Walkers, dramatic club of the junior college, at the first social function of the year at his home Wednesday night. It will be an organization meeting and officers will be selected and new members received.

On Friday night new members of the Y.W.C.A. of the college will be guests at a social affair held at the library starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Installation Of Beach DeMolays Held October 3

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 27.—Huntington Beach chapter of De Molay will hold a public installation of officers at Masonic hall on the night of October 3. The friends of the organization are invited. A card party will be enjoyed following installation.

The following recently elected officers will be installed: Douglas McAdam, master counselor; Johnnie Wells, senior counselor; Bus Watts, junior counselor; Byrl Lewis, treasurer. Appointive officers will also be installed, the selections of these officers to be announced later by the master counselor.

Mrs. Grey Speaks In Brea Church

BREA, Sept. 27.—At the morning service of the Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. Ruth Grey, wife of Rev. Joseph Grey, filled the pulpit for her husband in his absence to assist in the rally day at Boyle Heights.

MESA CONCERT SCHEDULED FOR NEXT SATURDAY

COSTA MESA, Sept. 27.—What promises to be one of the most outstanding musical concerts of the fall here is one that is being arranged by the entertainment committee of the local Unemployed association and to be given in the grammar school auditorium next Saturday evening beginning at 8 o'clock.

Vladimir Lenski, local violinist, will play three groups of pieces, all of them, according to Lenski, being among the lighter pieces of the composers represented. Ramona Williams, well known local reader, will give some musical readings, accompanied by Miss Ethel Cammerer, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Veda Thompson. Miss Cammerer will also give a steel guitar solo. The Costa Mesa men's quartet, Ed Bennett, Lee Belding, Earl Winterbourne and Herbert McMurtry, will sing, and little Joanne Wilcox will appear on the program in several folk dances.

Lenski will play as his first group, compositions of Kreisler. As his second group he will play from the productions of Polish composers, Wieniawski, Chanson Polonaise, Oberstas and Sielanska, and for the third number he will play "Zigeunerweisen," by the noted Spanish composer, Sarasate. The male quartet will sing "Good-bye, My Love, Good-bye," and "Southern Memories." Mrs. Mary Bennett accompanying at the piano. Miss Williams will give two readings, "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "The Lily of France."

PICNIC OBSERVES 25TH ANNIVERSARY

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 27.—Honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Skervis, of Anaheim, on their 25th wedding anniversary, members of the Tuesday afternoon club and their husbands gathered at Anaheim park for a picnic dinner Sunday.

The table was centered with a wedding cake decorated with a tiny bride and groom standing under an arch of greenery. Tall white tapers in silver holders were placed near the cake and bowls of flowers at both ends of the table.

Mrs. W. B. Merchant, on behalf of the members, presented the honored couple with pieces of silver. Mr. and Mrs. Skervis were married 25 years ago at McKee Port, Penn., and came to Orange county about six years ago.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Skervis, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Harpster, Mrs. R. M. Fay and Miss Ethel Archer, of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Newsum, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Schauer, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Merchant and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Fitz.

Dinners Observe 2 Anniversaries

LA HABRA, Sept. 27.—Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Launer, whose birthday anniversaries come in the same week, Mrs. J. A. Chewning entertained a group of friends with a bridge dinner at her home on Fullerton road recently.

Autumn flowers centered the three small tables where the dinner was served and places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zinn, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Frantz, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Walling, Mr. and Mrs. George Soule, Mr. and Mrs. Launer and Mr. and Mrs. Chewning.

Prizes in the bridge games went to Mrs. Jack Zinn and George Soule for high score and to Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Launer, for low. On Sunday Mrs. Launer was honored with a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Luehm, of North Cypress avenue. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Launer and daughter, Ruth Marie; Catherine Luehm, Francis Luehm and Mr. and Mrs. Luehm.

Two Silver Medals Given By W.C.T.U.

FULLERTON, Sept. 27.—Under auspices of the Fullerton W. C. T. U. two silver medal awards have been presented children in Fullerton as result of their winning the oratorical contests. One was given Dorothy Nash and one to Geraldine Ballard.

Beraline received her award Sunday morning at the Methodist church where she, with Henrietta Patton, Pauline Crocker, Ola Lee Murphy and Kathryn Eddy, participated in a contest which was the principal program at the promotion exercises at the Sunday school hour. The department, of which Mrs. C. R. Vandenberg is superintendent, graduated 42 of the 150 graduates of the school. In this department, Bibles were presented Joe Bray and Marjorie Mathis for memory work prizes. Twenty other memory prize awards were given.

Mrs. E. M. Cooper, in charge of the medal contest work for the W. C. T. U., called attention to the special medals which are in the form of a dainty pin, with safety catch, instead of the large medal as formerly given as reward.

OPPOSES CHANGE IN TRUST DEEDS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 27.—Members of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce heard the negative side of proposition No. 3 on the ballot to be voted on at the November election. Professor Schneider of the University of Southern California delivered the address opposing proposition No. 3, which provides for a change in the trust deed law, making a deed of trust redemption period the same as that of a mortgage, or to run a year after foreclosure before title passes over.

The speaker answered City Attorney Ray Overacker, who spoke in favor of the amendment at the meeting of the chamber of commerce last week. Professor Schneider argued that eastern money seeking California loans would be withdrawn from the state unless a stringent deed of trust law was maintained and also that interest rates would be raised thus working a hardship rather than the advantage of the borrowers.

His address occupied the entire time of the noon meeting and luncheon at the Coffee Cup cafe. He was introduced by President Willis R. Osborn.

NEWPORT-LAGUNA HIGHWAY OPENED

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 27.—The new paving on Coast highway from Laguna Beach to Newport Beach has been opened its full length. Traffic has increased noticeably. The new roadway is very smooth. It is 39 feet wide, allowing three traffic lanes.

Work is being rushed on the road to the south, but it will be several months before the work is completed.

Club To Sponsor Water Sports At Newport Formed

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 27.—An organization which may eventually develop into an all-around amateur athletic club was tentatively formed here last night. It will specialize in promoting water sports, according to its sponsors.

A committee consisting of Ross Greeley, S. A. Meyer, Bruce Randall and Halsey Denman, who was chairman of last night's meeting, was named to bring in a report as to the name of the organization, finance, publicity and other details. A special committee consisting of Randall and Fred Storey will also suggest a program of events.

The move to form such an organization followed the successful rough-water swim here Labor day, and the girls' swim and surfboard events last Sunday, sponsored by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Among others who attended the meeting were Fred J. Crozier, Howard Langley, of Los Angeles; John Cassidy, of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce; Coach Ralph Reed of the Newport Harbor Union High school, and Secretary G. C. Macleod of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

BARBECUE ENJOYED
LA HABRA, Sept. 27.—One of the first bits of construction on the beautiful hillside building site of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Knowlton in La Habra Heights was that of an out-door fireplace. A group of friends gathered at the spot recently for a barbecue supper. In the party besides Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Mathison and sons, Fritz and Keith, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Launer and sons, Raymond and Jimmie.

Temperance Play Set For Friday

FULLERTON, Sept. 27.—Rehearsals will start at 4 p. m. Wednesday for the temperance pageant, "What Do You Think," to be given at the Methodist church at 7:30 p. m., Friday under the auspices of Fullerton Woman's Christian Temperance union, under the direction of Miss Mabel Brown and Miss Dorothy Hoffman who are touring the country presenting these plays in the cause of prohibition.

Forty children will participate and besides the pageant, Miss Brown, a pupil of Freeman M. Hammond, of New York, and a graduate of the Pittsburgh School of Speech, will give readings and Miss Hoffman, who with her brother, Ralph Lockwood, wrote "Which Way?" will talk on the temperance situation. The two women are working under the Allied Youth and the W. C. T. U.

Bridge Enjoyed In Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyer entertained a group of friends with a bridge party at their home on West Chapman avenue Saturday evening.

First prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kakeham while Mrs. A. E. Kearns and Floyd Lieser were consoling. At the close of the evening the hostess served refreshments to the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kearns, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wakeham, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lieser.

CALAVO ENDS MEMBER DRIVE FRIDAY NIGHT

LA HABRA, Sept. 27.—The most successful La Habra district and general Orange county avocado grower sign-up ever staged by the Growers' Cooperative Marketing association ends Friday at midnight, with numerous new members promised for this week. Raymond F. Frantz, director here for the Calavo Growers' association and a prominent local avocado grower, reported at the grower meeting held here last evening.

Economics of next season's operations will return an additional $20,000 to the growers next season, through salary reductions and several jobs eliminated this month. Another $20,000 has already been eliminated also from next season's budget, bringing next season's handling, packing, selling and advertising costs down to the lowest per unit on record. Packing costs this season were lowered 25 per cent, despite the larger cost, and this record is expected to be broken next season.

The Price-Crumrine grove of 1250 trees of producing age, the E. O. White grove of 800 old trees, the Hubbell, formerly Manz, grove of also 800 old trees, and the Louisa Espolt grove of 640 trees, were among the most conspicuous listed in La Habra last week. Mr. Frantz reported, bringing the local grower membership to over 200 growers. Numerous other growers have been enlisted in Long Beach, Santa Ana, Fullerton, Tustin, Anaheim and Orange this month, also. Some 240 growers have enlisted just this summer, the oldest groves being here and the most numerous young groves at Vista, thus assuring the association next

Mesa Horse Has Concern For Kittens

COSTA MESA, Sept. 27.—Ahorita, an Arabian mare owned by Lou Slothower, of Nanzanita street, had her maternal instincts aroused when four new born kittens were left in her stable.

When Slothower came to feed the mare, she seemed worried, so much so that she would not eat as usual and when turned out she insisted upon returning to the stable. After five attempts to take her to the pasture, Slothower curiously followed to discover the cause and there on the stable floor were the four kittens, but no mother cat in sight.

After attention was called to the kittens, Ahorita seemed less concerned, as if she fully expected something to be done for the case at hand.

Bridal Couple At Costa Mesa Home

COSTA MESA, Sept. 27.—George King, of Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. King, of Newport road, and Miss Catherine Harrison, also of Los Angeles, who were married Saturday noon at the First Methodist church, of Hollywood, with Dr. N. K. McGowan officiating, have arrived in Costa Mesa to spend several days, after spending two days in San Diego with the groom's parents.

The groom is well known here, where he lived during his school days. Mr. and Mrs. G. King will make their home in Los Angeles.

season of having its highest crop marketing control in history. Cecil Knowlton and Albert Wright are captains of the two calavo teams now beginning the "last minute" canvass.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR H. B. STUDENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 27.—The student body government at Huntington Beach union high school has had its powers extended this term by the faculty. This year the student body may give its give demerits, acting as a delinquent. Credits may be given for outstanding voluntary service, the merits to be subject to the approval of the faculty. In past terms the student body government could only give demerits, acting as a disciplinary governing body.

The various classes have elected their class officers for the ensuing year, with the exception of the junior class, which has not as yet chosen its class officers. The senior class officers are: Reginald Lake, president; Paul Swigert, vice president; Frances King, secretary-treasurer; Cleo Smith, advisory board member; Mrs. Ruth Harlow and Mr. Duns, class advisers.

TEACHERS TO MEET

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 27.—The first of the series of teachers' meetings will be held Thursday evening for officers and teachers of the local Presbyterian Sunday school. The meeting is to be at the church hall and plans for work of the school will be discussed at that time.

VOTERS IN MAZE

Others than Will Rogers are amazed at the absolute cocksureness of the assertion by various men as to what position the voters should take at the approaching national election. Yet after reading the oracular assertions both ways one finds, in talking man to man with informed and intelligent individuals, that there is a large division of opinion as to what should be done from any point of view.

Prohibitionists are seriously divided. Some maintain that Hoover offers more hope than Roosevelt. Others declare there is no difference. Some say they are going to vote for Norman Thomas, in protest, others declare they will not do so because Thomas is running on the Socialist platform and the Socialist platform is for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Others declare that they are going to vote for Upshaw on the Prohibition ticket which would be the natural course were it not for the fact that most of the Prohibition voters believe that former Congressman Upshaw is the least fitted for the office of any of the candidates.

The same division can be shown from the standpoint of economics, of unemployment, and of the rehabilitation of business life.

Probably those who are not partisan and who are not lined up for special reasons on one side or the other are in doubt, increasingly, as to what should be done about in the same proportion as they put additional time in thinking on the question.

What is the reason for all this? It is because there is no clearly defined issue between the men and the party organization upon any of the major questions. Each of the party platforms, and then in their acceptance speeches the party candidates for President, evidently were out hunting for the liquor vote. And then after they get through their statements there is an attempted interpretation by special pleaders that it is better for the "drys" or the "wets," depending upon the group to which they are speaking, if their particular candidate for whom they are working, is elected.

You can apply this pretty much down the line. It is a case of the "ins" against the "outs." The only point at which there seems to be a serious difference of opinion is over the power interests. There may be over the question of the payment of the bonus, but upon this question the Democratic candidate has made no utterance.

Mr. Hoover is gaining the greater reputation for courage. His position is well known. He has stated it upon the bonus and upon other matters strongly. But having been placed now for several years in a position where action was necessary, of course it is the better part of valor now to support strongly the position which he has constantly assumed. Mr. Roosevelt is dodging the issue, very clearly. He is being condemned for this. But as politics go you can hardly blame a candidate for refusing to commit himself upon a debatable question and accommodate himself to the opposition when the opposition's attitude is well known upon that question.

The tendency of the voter will undoubtedly be determined as to whether he believes the methods that have been put in operation to get us out of our condition are succeeding or are more likely to succeed than a program which might be suggested by the opposing candidate who as yet has laid down no definite and comprehensive program. It is leaving the voter in the dark to guess between a condition which he doesn't like and a condition which could be a whole lot better but might possibly be worse. And even if Mr. Roosevelt has a very definite program we could never tell whether it would improve or harm conditions until after it were tested out.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT CONCEDES TO MAHATMA GANDHI

Mahatma Gandhi has broken his hunger strike. He had reached the point beyond which he could not have gone, it seems, and recovered when he received word that the British government had accepted the compromise electoral system which had been drawn up by the high caste Hindus and the untouchables for a basis for action.

It is difficult to understand the power which Gandhi exercises over the Indian people and particularly is it difficult to understand how this act of self-imposed starvation should cause such activity among all people. Gandhi was suffering in sorrow. He imposed this upon himself because of the failure of others and these others who are responsible for this starvation could not endure the burden thus laid upon them and they were forced to concede, along the lines of justice, as Gandhi was demanding. This emphasizes the great difference in the religion, in the philosophical outlook between that country and this. The British government's prompt response to the compromise agreed upon in India indicates very clearly that it did not want to be held responsible to the least degree for the possible death of the Mahatma, due to his self-imposed punishment.

Most people could refrain from eating for a much longer period than has Mr. Gandhi without seriously affecting their health, it would be more likely to aid it, but Gandhi in eating has always been under restraint. His food is extremely limited in variety and more limited in quantity. He is frail to the point of emaciation and had no reserve strength upon which to draw. The consequence was that his failure to take any nourishment quickly started him on the road to complete incapacity.

The compromise agreed upon provides that 148 seats in provincial legislatures be held by the depressed classes and that a percentage of seats in the central legislature be preserved for them. While Great Britain pointed out that there are some details that will have to be worked out, she emphasized that this did not imply any opposition by the government.

This probably is the most marvelous exhibition of the power of what Gandhi calls soul force over material forces. A weak, emaciated, poor, naked prisoner in the jail at Poona simply by his own force of will, of character, and the reverence that the people have for him, places himself against the caste and customs of his people and the proclamation of the greatest empire on earth and forces them to submit and surrender in six days. The greatest power in this world today is not the power of armies.

Sir Walter Still Lives

San Francisco Chronicle

A hundred years ago today Sir Walter Scott died, worn out by his tremendous struggle to pay the debt of honor in which he was involved by the bankruptcy of his publisher. That debt, and the effort to pay it, was, however, responsible for the flood of romances Scott poured out on the world. All told, he wrote a million dollars worth, earning the greatest sum a writer had ever gained up to his time, and not often exceeded since. His pen paid his debt, though not fully until after Sir Walter had laid down the quill.

Does Scott still live? He wavered, Ivanhoe and Kenilworth still read? He must be living, if we are to judge by the shoals of magazine articles—with two new biographies—that have greeted this centenary. We may judge something in San Francisco by the popular interest in the exhibition of Scott manuscripts and relics now being shown at the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum. As to the second question a good answer is found in the frequency with which the public libraries have replaced the volumes of Scott on their shelves. Ultra moderns may sniff at Scott's long-winded romances but the library copies are worn out fast.

As everyone knows, Scott invented the historical novel. How many realize what an immense influence Scott exerted over the English language itself, how many of our common expressions originated in his romances, poetic or prose, or were revived by him from the limbo of obsolete words and given new currency.

The word "henchman," indispensable to our political writers, is an example of the last. It was antique, gone entirely out of use until Scott picked it up and tossed it out for the world to play with again.

A writer in the Atlantic last year assembled a long line of Scott's contributions to the language. Many of them were original with him, for example, "free-lance," "redhanded" and "a sea of upturned faces." Besides "henchman" he revived and popularized many another obsolete term. "Fifful" is one, "towering passion" another, "glamorous," "vituperate," "colign of vantage," "thews and sinews," "moes-trooper," "blackmail," "slogan," "raid," "smoulder," and "stalwart."

And let us not forget "foemen worthy of their steel," "hall the colors to the mast," "beard the lion in his den," "unwept, unhonored and unused" and "breathes there the man with soul so dead." A man who put so many living words and phrases into the English language as Scott did can hardly be said to be dead.

Story Tellers And Fairies

Pomona Progress-Bulletin

A long-lost race of pigmy cave men who lived in Europe and the British Isles during the old stone age probably gave rise to the myths about fairies, according to a recent speaker before the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

This race, submerged when more advanced people entered the land, lived in caves, disliked their more civilized neighbors and flitted about on the dusky outskirts of things, aloof and wary, until finally they died out entirely. Legends about them were handed down, from mouth to mouth, over countless centuries, until finally men forgot that they were telling about an actual race of people and embroidered the tales into fantastic accounts of diminutive supernatural beings of enchanting loveliness.

So, at any rate, runs the British scientist's explanation; and it is a striking and interesting example of the way in which the race can take a tiny bit of fact and expand it into a myth which bears almost no relation to its original form.

Story tellers, you see, are a queer lot. The way things actually happen is seldom quite good enough for them. They put in little things here and there to make the tale more pleasing, they change their stories of what really happened into stories of what they wish had happened—and presently the race has a new legend, brave and shining, very often, fit to ensnare the dreams of wide-eyed youth for unending centuries.

So the whispered reminiscences of pigmy cave men become transmuted into delicate and charming stories of lovely beings on the realms of magic. So a blind poet's chant about an ancient war becomes a great epic of heroism and human struggle. So a freddie recounting of a half-savage king's exploits becomes the delectable story of King Arthur, his round table and the island vale of Avalon.

And so, over the years, humanity builds for itself tales that inspire it and comfort it, tales that persuade it that it has a noble heritage and a high destiny, tales that round off the rough edges of the world and make life more livable.

More Truth Than Poetry

NOTHING TO JOKE ABOUT

(At the Ithaca convention of scientists Dr. S. J. Holmes announces that women are the stronger sex.)

Man of science, quit your kidding;
Although microcosms may Changes their natures at your bidding,
And do anything you say,
Although atoms may shatter
And their contents rearrange
Into sundry forms of matter
That are wholly new and strange,
Though astute you are and zealous,
And each year profounder grow,
Please—Oh! please! don't try to tell us Something we already know.

Men may lack in observation,
They may priggish be, and vain,
Proned to boastful ostentation
Though lethargic in the brain,
But experience has schooled them—
They have known, almost from birth,
Who has bullied, bossed and ruled them
Since they've dwelt upon the earth.
Wise men, dull men, men abraded
On their thick and unburned necks—
None have ever been persuaded
That they were the stronger sex.

Though like gossamer the reins are
That upon them lie so light,
Well they know just whose brains are
Which direct them left and right.
They may struggle for their freedom,
Quite a number of 'em do—
But when orders come, they heed 'em,
And they learn to like 'em, too.
Man of science, quit your jesting;
Though you speak up loud and bold,
You'd be far more interesting
If your news were not so old.

Another record-breaking achievement by Americans is the pain they give other races.

Perhaps it is called a political bee because it is so disillusioning in the end.

The gain of one is another's loss. As a sick man's body gets stronger his conscience gets weaker.

The funny part of it is that he is called a celebrity when nobody but imbeciles thinks him a wonder.

The sap in a tree rises, which may explain the queer things at the top of a family tree.

LIBERTY IS NEAR BOTTOM WHEN IT CON-SISTS IN SERVING LIQUOR YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO GUESTS WHO DON'T WANT IT.

Briefly stated, the American attitude toward Japan's policy in Manchuria is that Jimmy Fox ought to have a salary like Babe's if he gets as many homers.

Yet it isn't the party in power that matters so much as the power in the party.

Still, if there were no lawyers who would protect us from other lawyers?

AMERICANISM: Denouncing wasteful officials who tax us; making heroes of criminals who indirectly cost us a great deal more.

It's easy to pick out the rich man. Just look for a clot of those who want something without earning it.

Smile for today: As secure as the humble people who have nothing worth taking.

It isn't difficult to quit smoking. You just lose all your money and then do something to get six months in the jug.

ENEMIES AREN'T SUCH A BAD LOT. THEY DON'T ASK YOU TO LOOK AT THEIR BRIDGE WORK.

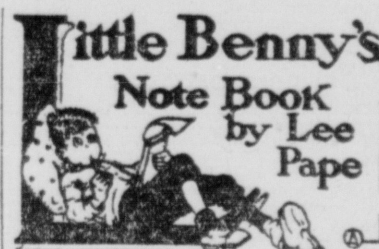

When you see a man with a yard-long face, he's probably thinking of what happened to the money an agent once urged him to invest in life insurance.

Awful suspicion! Maybe all of our strong and silent men were that way because nobody offered them 15 cents a word.

Things are getting back to normal when a man can't shoot himself without arousing the suspicion that he is queer.

Little Benny's
Note Book
by Lee Pape

After supper pop was smoking without much expression, and ma said, My lands Willyum you look as if half the troubles of the world were rolling off your shoulders, what's a matter?

I haven't been myself the passed few days, I seem to of been a couple of other fellows, pop said, and ma said, Then I want you to go rite around to Dr. Rorer's, he has hours in the evening.

Perhaps he'll share one with me, but suppose he's making people worse instead of better this year on account of the depression? pop said, and ma said, Now Willyum I dont want to hear any excuses and beetings in the bush, you go this minnit and Benny can go with you to make sure you get there.

Wich I did, only Dr. Rorer wasn't in but he was expected back any minnit, and me and pop sat down in the waiting room, pop saying, By golly he's still got that rickety old open face set of book shelves, I dont bleeve anybody has pulled out a book for years and I'm going to brake the spell rite now.

And he reached away up to the top shelf and started to pull out a big book, and it was stuck between the other books and pop pulled harder and the whole book-case started to fall over frontwards, and pop quick cawt it and pushed it back and about a hundred books fell out while he was doing it, pop saying, Yee gods, what a mess, hurry up and help me put these back before the doctor comes in.

Wich we hurry up did, taking a long time on account of being such heavy books and so many of them, pop saying, Wowie, I'm all wet, I haven't had such a workout since I was on the gymnasium team in college. That's what I needed, a little stiff exercise, I feel a hundred per cent better, come on let's go out of here, he said.

Wich we did, me feeling better too without even having felt sick.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files

SEPTEMBER 27, 1918

Letters from Floyd H. Mitchell, written from Camp Lewis, Ore., stated that he was the only Orange county man in his outfit, Company E, First U. S. Infantry, one of the oldest, if not the oldest in the U. S. army. It had been stationed in the Hawaiian Islands, arriving at the mainland only the previous June.

Charles F. Smith received his appointment by the federal reserve bank of San Francisco, as Orange county director of sales for United States treasury certificates of indebtedness. His work with the various county banking institutions was to be in arranging for each to take its quota of treasury certificates. The Orange County Bankers' association expressed its approval of the appointment of the Santa Ana man to the position, through W. B. Williams, association president.

Miss Estelle Nigson had left for Pennsylvania where she was to attend Bryn Mawr for the year. She planned to stop on her eastward journey to spend a few days with an uncle in Kansas City.

Mrs. Edward Cheverton and her infant son had returned to Los Angeles. The baby had been born in the home of Mrs. Cheverton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Robins.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

REAL PROBLEM OF RECOVERY

The real problem colled at the heart of the question of nationwide economic recovery is twofold:

(1) We must effect a genuine reconstruction of consumer purchasing power.

(2) We must somehow reabsorb the army of the now unemployed in gainful occupation.

Until we meet these two aspects of our economic problem business recovery is bound to be slow.

Political ballyhoo must not blind us to this basic fact.

Three years of restricted buying have clearly created, in certain fields, dammed-up demands that will result in some new business.

I have said earlier in these articles that these dammed-up demands for replacements will be one of the factors making for business recovery and that, by and large, inventories that could satisfy these dammed-up demands are low.

I still insist that this is true. But, as I go more deeply into the question of inventories, I find that we are not so much a nation of "bare shelves" and "depleted stocks" as might be guessed by the layman.

There are still excessive world surpluses of (1) wheat, (2) cotton, (3) copper, (4) tin, (5) rubber, (6) coffee, (7) sugar, and (8) zinc.

The national inventory of leaf tobacco is today 345,000,000 pounds larger than last year.

Manufactured chemicals and raw chemical materials, while below 1923-24, are by no means in a state of serious shortage.

The stocks of department stores in the Federal Reserve District of New York are down 18.7 per cent below last year, but prices on these stocks have fallen 18.4 per cent in this time and the volume of retail trade has fallen 21 per cent in this time, so that the experts conclude that "in relation to actual sales, retail inventories have maintained a relatively fixed percentage."

All of which indicates that replacement demands, while indefinitely important in the recovery picture, are not sufficient to insure business recovery unless we also do the two things I suggested at the outset:

(1) Effect a genuine reconstruction of consumer buying power.

(2) Reabsorb the army of the now unemployed.

Here is the challenge extraordinary to business and industrial leadership.

Our Children
By

TO THE TEACHER

The success or failure of the children in school depends upon the quality of the teacher. The principal may be the most skilled and learned of men, the supervisors may be the most efficient and stimulating of people, but if the teacher is not all she needs to be the children must fail.

That is a heavy responsibility for anybody to carry. Teachers feel it keenly. They are personally humiliated if the children of their classes fail. They take it to heart and lie awake, worry themselves into headache, nervous disorders and exhaustion of body and mind.

The only way to cure exhaustion is to prevent it. The teacher impatiently asks how she can do that with a class the size of hers, with an array of supervisors and parents and interested outsiders demanding the maximum of return from her. "If some of you people would get off our backs we would live longer and do better," said one exasperated and exhausted teacher.

I agree with the teacher that the pressure is often more than any human being can endure. The thing for her to do is to slip out from under whenever she feels the load pressing too hard. Take a week-end off. Stay out of school for a day or two and do whatever you think will refresh you the most. You can arrange your work so that the substitute can carry on for a few days. The change will do the class good. They will appreciate you the more when you return. You will feel searchingly into the face of each of the men about the table and said, "Gentlemen, didn't this woman ever have a grandmother, or an old aunt, or somebody close to her who passed on? Wasn't she ever tired or sick or wasn't anybody in her family ever married? Wasn't she human somewhere?"

Teachers are human. They feel deeply. They suffer keenly. They feel the troubles of a community pressing upon their spirits. They

I never could get up any enthusiasm for the teacher who boasted of a hundred per cent record of attendance for 40 years. I rather agree with the school board member who, when the board drew up a set of resolutions congratulating this punctual regular teacher, took off his glasses, looked searchingly into the face of each of the men about the table and said, "Gentlemen, didn't this woman ever have a grandmother, or an old aunt, or somebody close to her who passed on? Wasn't she ever tired or sick or wasn't anybody in her family ever married? Wasn't she human somewhere?"
